Mayor says ERPC on "tenuous" grounds

The St. Albert General Plan had what may be the first of many brushes with the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission at its Municipal Planning Commission meeting June 1.

The discussion about the proposed St. Albert General Plan was frank and to the point.

ERPC planners Gordon Tweddell and John Hilliard were told they were on tenuous ground after there had been suggestions that St. Albert might have to increase the amount of public housing in the city in the future.

In the General Plan, St. Albert has made it clear the split between single family and multi-family dwellings will remain at 80/20 for the time being.

Over the 10 year period of the general plan St. Albert is looking at seven percent growth up to the 50,000 mark.

Mr. Tweddell pointed out that holding the family dwelling split to 80/20 would not directly assist those people who could not afford single family homes.

On the question of a broader housing mix, Alderman Frank Lukay said that that could be amended very easily, but not before a year was out.

"With industrial development we could amend this to some degree," the alderman said.

Mayor Dick Plain was critical of the type of "social engineering" from the ERPC and earlier warned that they were on tenuous ground.

He suggested it was not right for St. Albert to take a quarter section of land, then pile in the people with no services.

Getting a fairer perspective on the issue. City Administrator Bob Byron in the context of public housing, said "If we were in Red Deer we would have to provide for the whole spectrum."

At one point in the discussion on the Restricted Development Area (RDA) between Edmonton and St. Albert, City Planner Wayne

Gordon feared that the physical separation between Edmonton and St. Albert might be wiped out.

But Mr. Hilliard said the ERPC was not suggesting that "one way or the other."

Apparently, the final draft of any document like the St. Albert General Plan must clearly establish an area which separates urban developments in different urban settings.

As the "big guns" of the ERPC were trained on the St. Albert General Plan Ald. Lukay feared there was a danger of "finishing" it, within the next two weeks.

However other points made by the ERPC planners were that the St. Albert General Plan does not contain Please Turn to Page 2

Nurses will meet on negotiations conflict

The possibility of a nurses strike in some Edmonton area hospitals has prompted the St. Albert Nurses Interest Group to call a meeting of local members of the nursing profession. The meeting will be held June 21 at 7:30 at Bertha Kennedy School. It is hoped that the meeting will provide a forum for the exchange of information, clarifying the pre-

49 grade six students centre of angry busing debate

Forty-nine grade six students from the Ronald Harvey Elementary School are in the cross fire of an angry debate this week on whether or not they should be bused from their school to the Sir George Simpson Junior High.

And nothing was resolved about their fate at a meeting

May 31 between 40 angry parents and trustees of St. Albert School Division 6, at the Ronald Harvey School.

Parents talked of changing their religion if necessary to make sure their youngsters stayed at a school of their choice.

One parent talked about her child being booted around like a football "and now they are hitting me a second time around."

It was not a happy night for Superintendent of School Division 6 Elmer Gish as the division was accused of wasting "out time, you are just being nice to us."

He pointed out Catholic students are being bused in greater numbers than Protestant and said, "What I hear tonight has not changed my mind, I have not accepted your logic."

When it was asked if the problem could be solved by moving two portable classrooms to the Ronald Harvey school, Mr. Gish pointed out this was not possible. The provincial government could not grant this because of a commitment to a West Grandin school and a junior high Please Turn to Page 2

RCMP get their man

The RCMP in St. Albert had a very successful week in "getting their man" a release from the St. Albert detachment pointed out Tuesday.

The local RCMP were particularly successful in solving a number of break-ins in the Lacombe Park area of St. Albert, as well as other areas of the city.

Sunday is special events day!

For a number of years the Kinsmen have held a special events day on the Sunday preceding rodeo weekend in order to involve people of all ages in St. Albert in fun activities at no charge of any kind, and to set the tone for rodeo week celebrations.

This year arrangements have been made for a Fly Past of CFB Otters through the Namao base. The special events committee has planned to have Mayor Plain kicking off Rodeo Week with the official ribbon cutting taking place during the fly past. This is going to be a tricky bit of timing about one o'clock said Jim Waldron, chairman of the committee. Prior to that Rodeo Chairman Jim Waldron will give a short history of the rodeo.

Lacombe Park Lake official opening

The Lacombe Park Lake will be officially opened June 16 at 7:30 p.m.

This is the first time in Alberta that a public lake has been developed (by BACM) in conjunction with a new subdivision for cycling, fishing, skating and picnicking.

Mayor Dick Plain will officially open the new park.

Musical entertainment and light refreshments will be provided between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Many citizens from St. Albert are expected to attend the opening.

The lake and park are located at the west end of McKenney Avenue.

Last week May 27, the Lacombe Park Lake became the home of 1,000 pan size rainbow trout, courtesy of the provincial department of Parks, Recreation and Wildlife.

Rules and regulations regarding fishing at the lake are expected to be available once the lake has been opened.

This year the lake will only be stocked once, but in future it is expected that it will be stocked twice a year.

THE TEMPTATION WAS TOO GREAT, and this young man took the plunge in the new Lacombe Park Lake which will open June 16. However, it should be brought to your attention that activities of this sort are not permitted.

flict with regional growth studies or ERPC policies "at this time."

But the ERPC representatives felt that the final objectives in the transportation section of the general plan "should be broadened to the entire Metro area."

On the area of water and sewer facilities Mayor Plain said he was not so sure St. Albert wanted to be self-sufficient in these areas. He talked of interdependence (with St. Albert and Edmonton).

"The more services you have the more interdependent you become," he said.

After St. Albert council has given three readings to the General Plan bylaw, and if it meets the requirements of the ERPC, it will then pass into law.

This would happen if the plan is accepted by the Provincial Planning Board.

dissent in the ranks of the AARN, another group, the Staff Nurses Association has been established to assume negotiating responsibilities. The latter group has hired a professional negotiator, Mr. Donahue, to represent them.

Mr. Donahue, chief executive officer of the United Nurses of Alberta, will address the meeting, speaking on the "Purposes of Collective Bargaining."

The original intent of the meeting's organizers had been to have both parties in the dispute, the AARN and the Staff Nurses Association, make presentations at the meeting. However, Mr. Donahue was unwilling to appear under those conditions.

To ensure that both sides get equal time, a second meeting is scheduled for June 28, when Catherine Boyce, of the AARN Provincial Council will speak.

WANT PAY INCREASE

The issue that could touch off a strike in some hospitals is in connection with salary. Recently, certified nursing assistants received a pay hike, which puts them in a bracket close to the starting salary of registered nurses. The nurses feel this is unfair, and want a corresponding pay hike. Holidays and overtime are also issues in dispute.

All nurses in this area are encouraged to attend the meeting to hear both presentations.

in stage nine of Lacombe Park.

If the portable classroom route was taken, Mr. Gish argued, "you would end with a cluster of portables and would never get another school."

The portables would involve a total investment of $70,000, he said.

Earlier Mr. Gish said the division was not happy about taking the children out of the Lacombe neighborhood, but the present school was overflowing and it had been decided the children should go to the well equipped Sir George Simpson Junior High about a mile and a half away across the river.

After pressing the point about getting government help for the portables, the meeting was told that this would depend on utilization of space in the whole district. If a statement of need were given, the school division would have to show 85 percent utilization, Mr. Gish pointed out.

There was declining enrollment, classes were half full in Edmonton, and this was happening in St. Albert as well, said Mr. Gish.

As for the busing costs of the students, that would be about $10,000 for the 49, Mr. Gish pointed out. But this expense could be waived, he added extra.

As the meeting progressed matters seemed to get worse; Mr. Gish was telling the parents that eventually grade one students might have to be bused out of Ronald Harvey. However earlier in the discussion he had pointed out that the board preferred the (present) space for grade 1-5 inclusive.

SEVEN MOVES IN FIVE YEARS

Parents did not spare their ire for the board.

One told how in five years a daughter had been in seven schools in St. Albert.

Another suggested that surplus funds might be used to get the portables installed.

One of the more serious points to come from the meeting was the allegation of a drug problem at the Sir George Simpson school, and the related problem of supervision. There was a move to put pressure on the board by writing to the Deputy Minister of Education on this matter.

Other parents summed their frustrations up with "the reason we are here is because our kids are upset, they do not desire to leave their school." That was the main concern, "not the bloody busing schedule," the parent added.

Another suggested that if the board were paid with taxpayers money, then they were supposed to be the obedient servants of the people.

That was said in the context of the people calling the tune as to when the next meeting might be to solve the busing problem.

That meeting might have to come before Trustees Administrative Seminar in Banff this week.

Late in the meeting Mayor Dick Plain suggested that development of the West Grandin core school need not be held up over this issue.

There was also a request that MLA Ernie Jamison should relay the feelings of the parents to the Department of Education.

Also during the meeting chairman Bill Webber pointed out that growth meant busing.

The turbulent meeting was well chaired by Edmonton teacher Bert Labuick.

Leverton, 36 Larkspur Crescent has been charged with break and entering a dwelling at Marion Crescent with intent.

RCMP say he was actually caught breaking into the residence at 10:10 a.m., June 1 by an off-duty member of the RCMP.

When RCMP searched Leverton's residence, they found stolen property which had been taken from as far away as Calgary, as well as in St. Albert.

Some of the property had been identified as coming from different residences in St. Albert.

Eighteen year old Hubert Glenn Frieberg, 112A Grosvenor Boulevard, along with a St. Albert juvenile, age 15, were caught breaking into the Denim Den clothing store June 2 at 1:59 a.m.

Sixteen year old Duncan Scott Schroeder, 69 Geneva Crescent was arrested June 3 in possession of stolen property obtained from break-ins in a number of local residences. At least 18 break and entries of homes in St. Albert have been cleared up.

RCMP say a number of exhibits have been seized and are being held at the St. Albert detachment.

Schroeder is to appear in court in St. Albert June 15 in connection with the offences.

RCMP say they have been successful in solving break and entries to the Robert Rundle School, Sir George Simpson and Albert Lacombe schools.

These took place on the night of May 17-18.

About $100 was taken from the Albert Lacombe School, $80 from the Sir George Simpson school and about $50 from the Robert Rundle school.

One local St. Albert resident has been arrested for these offences, the release concludes.

Cultural festival for St. Albert proposed

A proposal for a cultural festival in St. Albert prompted varying reactions at the monthly Sunday meeting of the Interclub Council.

The proposal for the festival was presented to the club representatives by members of the Cultural Co-operative Committee. Mr. George Newman outlined the proposal, aided by his wife, Mrs. Cam Newman and Mrs. Lefebvre.

Mr. Newman suggested that such a festival could not be held until 1978, as there would be much planning involved. Members of the Cultural Committee felt that August or September would be the most suitable time, as the festival would not conflict with the Rodeo or the Winter Carnival. Mr. Newman proposed that a contest be held in the schools to find a name for the contest.

It was suggested that the festival could run for a weekend or a week, with a parade kicking off the proceedings. The parade would consist of brownies, guides, cubs, scouts, service clubs, bands, theatre groups and many others. Mr. Newman said the idea would be to involve the entire city in the spirit of the festival.

According to the proposal, the downtown core would be closed off into a pedestrian mall. The Community Hall could be used by theatre groups or as a refreshment area. Mr. Newman felt that sport is a part of culture and proposed events such as tugs of war, starring city council, and horseshoes with different streets competing against each other. The festival could also feature community lacrosse, soccer and baseball games.

Theatre groups could stage performances in various locations and the downtown merchants could hold sidewalk sales. He suggested that the Historical Society and the Arts and Crafts Guild could have displays in the mall, where the music of various bands would fill the air.

Mr. Newman pointed out that the arena could again be used for a beer garden. The festival could also be the scene of puppet shows, livestock displays and displays of produce.

Mr. Newman expressed the hope that one of the service clubs would take responsibility for the administration of the festival, and commented that such an event would benefit the entire city.

CONFLICT WITH RODEO?

At this juncture, a lively discussion of the proposal began. Kinsman Rod Lauder pointed out that the Rodeo either features nearly all the events proposed, or has attempted them unsuccessfully in the past. However, Mrs. Newman countered, saying that the Rodeo is not staged within the city, and so does not have the unifying effect that the festival would have. She commented that St. Albert is a city of separate communities.

Mr. Lauder then stated that he felt that no single service club had the manpower to run such a festival, and remarked that it could possibly be run by the Interclub council.

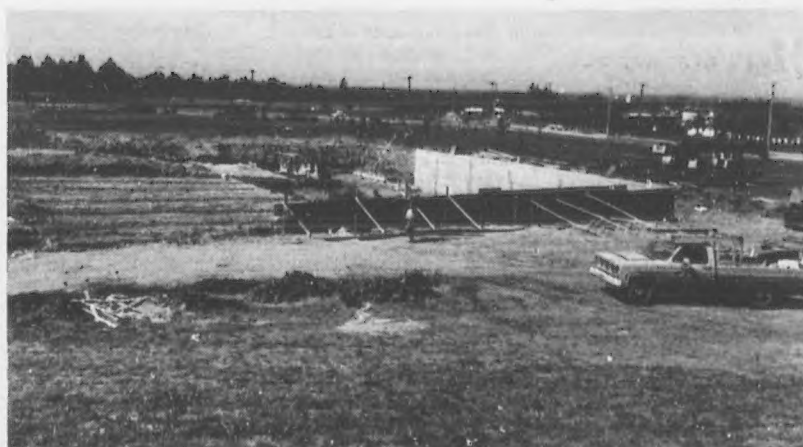

Mr. Newman stated emphatically that the town is run by sports groups, and Mrs. Lefebvre added that there is a need for a cultural event here. She spoke of efforts in past years to bring culture to the fore, and referred to attempts to revive a St. Albert Historical pageant. She commented that with long-term planning there need be no conflict with other events.

Interclub Council Chairman Blair Art suggested that various segments of the festival could be run by different clubs, with a coordinating body overseeing the whole project.

W.I. representative Marg Iske commented that the city has enough sports events, and that such a festival should concentrate on culture. This point of view brought agreement from Carol Watamaniuk, cultural supervisor for the Community Services, Recreation and Cultural Services Department of the City of St. Albert. Ms. Watamaniuk agreed that sports should be de-emphasized and remarked that the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild is the strongest in the province. She said that this fact might make them the logical group to take on the project.

Anyone who has opinions or suggestions on the topic of a cultural festival in St. Albert should contact Carol Watamaniuk at Community Services, Recreation and Cultural Services, 459-6601.

BEING BUILT by Harsim Construction is the $2.08 million major indoor swimming pool for St. Albert. It should be ready by May next year and is located at Fountain Park between Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Cunningham Road. It features an eight lane 25 meter pool and a smaller shallow pool for beginners. Tennis and racquet courts are expected to come on stream at the site later. Poole Construction is also busy on the indoor arena to seat 650 people at Hebert Road and Akins Drive. That facility could come on stream by November this year.

Around Town

There are probably quite a few little 'factories' putting together floats for the upcoming parade on June 18. The Gazette is in the process of manufacturing a first-time effort and it seems that all systems are go, except that we are having a little problem getting our "delightful" female employees to appear on the float in bikinis. While you may think of this as bad taste, we thought of it in a before and after effect, the rodeo queen and princesses would be the "before" float, and the Gazette float would be the "after" (way after) float.

New building to house restaurant

A new top-line restaurant is slated to open on or about August 2 in the new Professional Building on St. Anne Street.

The restaurant, owned by Mr. Bob Grosco, will occupy 3,856 sq. ft. on the west side of the main floor. To be known as "The Settlement" the 100 seat dining lounge and 50 seat lounge will be appropriately furnished in early Canadian decor.

Other tenants of the new building to this date will be two branches of the provincial government now located in City Hall. The Department of Social Services and Community Health and a probation branch of the Solicitor-General are presently negotiating for space and expect to move in as soon as possible.

CIS - the co-operators will occupy an office on the main floor. Greenlees Smith Travel Service hopes to open sometime in July.

A law firm, Rowand and Dalsin, expect to be located in the building by July 1 as does the accounting firm of Guy Nohet.

Two contracting outfits - Ewalt Construction Management Ltd. and B. J. Graham

Contracting Ltd. also expect to be into the building close to the time of the Grand Opening slated for July 1.

The provincial government offices will be independent regional offices serving St. Albert and area.

As more tenants finalize leasing arrangements the Gazette will attempt to publish their names.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Please be advised that the Council of the City of St. Albert proposes to adopt Development Control Resolution No. 12 being a Resolution to classify Portion of Lot A, Block 1, Plan 1790 T.R., as shown on the following map, to an Office-Commercial land use.

The proposed Development Control Resolution No. 12 may be examined between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. weekdays at the Planning Services Section in the City Hall, St. Albert.

A public hearing on the proposed Resolution will be held in the Council Chambers, City Hall Annex, on Monday, July 4, 1977, at 7:45 p.m.

Written representations concerning the manner in which any provision of the proposed Resolution may affect him/her will be received by the Municipal Secretary, City Hall, until 12:00 noon on Friday, June 17, 1977. Persons wishing to make oral representation may do so by appearing at the public hearing.

It's hire-a-student time again

Sixteen year old Karyn Duncan of St. Albert will have her work cut out for her this summer.

She'll be helping students get placed in jobs in both businesses and homes in the community throughout the season.

But the next three weeks will be the busiest as Karen spearheads a 'Hire-a-student' drive in St. Albert schools for those youngsters who are willing and able to work.

Students from age 13 to third year university have already made noises to get into the program.

So far the start is slow, only four students are in the program so far and two more job orders had been taken at the end of last week according to Karen.

Last year 120 students found work through the St. Albert Hire-a-Student program.

Karen explains that the type of job students do ranges from cutting lawns if you're hired by a homeowner, or doing dishes and babysitting.

If you are hired by a business, you might be placed in the Grandin Shopping Mall, or you could find yourself with a tougher labouring job if you find work in St. Albert's light industrial areas.

If you are an eagerbeaver and want to work the summer while the school books gather dust, give Karen a call at the St. Albert Community Services Centre 459-6601 extension 80.

"Hire-a-Student" is a provincial government program, and unique throughout the provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coles of Forest Lawn returned last week from a short holiday to the beautiful city of Victoria, B.C. It was the first trip that far west for them since they moved to Alberta some 27 years ago from Ontario. The Coles' were very enthusiastic about the many attractions in Victoria, but were a little disappointed in the Pacific Ocean, which Mrs. Coles described as more like Lake Superior than a great ocean.

To set the record straight

A report in the May 25th edition of the EDMONTON JOURNAL under the heading ... "Ministerial Help Urged in St. Albert-MLA Rift" said the following. "It was brought out that Mr. Jamison had made a speech in the House saying basically that EDMONTON should be allowed to take over ST. ALBERT." The above quote was reportedly made by Alderman Myrna Fyfe. Mr. Jamison, having read the article, personally delivered a copy of ALBERTA HANSARD to Alderman Fyfe. Mr. Jamison said he fully expected Mrs. Fyfe, who was asking for co-operation with the MLA, would rightfully apologize for the remark. Instead, Mrs. Fyfe, bated on by the mayor and aldermen, debated the subject for an hour of their time at Monday night's regular council meeting. Surely to goodness with the amount of unfinished business on city affairs council need not waste an hour on such nitpicking.

The MLA also told the Gazette he "grows weary of answering the phone to members of the various media, who have first been contacted by Mayor Plain, and then phone for the other side of the story. He believes the public grows weary also."

The only way to let the public judge for itself whether or not the MLA said basically that EDMONTON should be allowed to take over ST. ALBERT is to publish the speech which offended Alderman Fyfe. For those interested here is a photostat from Hansard.

MANAGING EDITOR.

ALBERTA HANSARD

April 18, 1977

MR. JAMISON: Mr. Chairman, I feel compelled to make some comments today on the situation which is developing as the Edmonton metropolitan area expands. Over the past five years most of the population growth has gone to Sherwood Park, St. Albert, Spruce Grove, the county of Parkland, the M.D. of Sturgeon, Leduc, Fort Saskatchewan, and Strathcona. Between 1971 and 1976 the city of Edmonton absorbed 28.7 per cent of this region's growth, while the subregion grew by 71.3 per cent. Edmonton is the only manufacturer of treated water and Edmonton takes a very large commuter population from the subregion to jobs in the city. The Edmonton road system must absorb this traffic from all directions.

This situation has led to serious jurisdictional problems between the various municipalities, with the provincial government in the role of "daddy" to them all. I have to question whether daddy is there to give direction to the municipalities, or merely to watch the fights.

I say this in all sincerity, Mr. Chairman, and I refer specifically to annexation hearings carried out by a wing of the Department of Municipal Affairs, the Local Authorities Board. The huge Castle Downs annexation to Edmonton was approved with no provision for adequate access roads. The LAB is presently conducting hearings for annexing 5,500 acres to St. Albert, which will bring St. Albert's boundaries to the edge of Castle Downs. The area will add some 50,000 people to St. Albert, and this will necessitate a massive increase in Edmonton-supplied water. Yet the LAB ruled that Edmonton could not make any submission to the hearing. As well Edmonton again will be forced to absorb a huge traffic volume into its road system. The hearing is estimated to cost $300,000 or more. A recent Local Authorities Board hearing in Fort Saskatchewan cost in the neighborhood of, I believe, $1 million.

Mr. Chairman, for the last five years I have been stressing that the municipalities involved in annexations should be required to get together for serious negotiations, with all their cards on the table, and thrash out the problem areas before applying to the Local Authorities Board. At this stage the departments of Municipal Affairs, the Environment, and Transportation should be available with sound advice on provincial government plans, what funds will be made available, and when to support the requirements of the proposed annexation. In other words, the province must make some decisions and announce them. For example, how long have the Hanson, McNally, and The future of this City reports by Edmonton been before the province with no reply and no decisions?

Lacking firm decisions, the land speculators have had a field day in Alberta. Growth continues like wildfire and, while the province awaits land-use studies, thousands of acres of prime agricultural land are being covered with housing and commercial development. How far will we have to transport food for the city of Edmonton, the metropolitan area? And how high will food costs go?

We seem to pay only lip service to land use. Last week I had the occasion to appear before the provincial planning board on behalf of a farmer and his son. They wanted only two acres of land for a house for the son. The economics of the farm are such that the son needs the two acres for a home so he can assist with the farm work and also work at a job part-time. This request was turned down. Lip service to land use.

While whole sections in the Edmonton subregion are allowed to be covered, government still has made no decision on an improved formula for providing growing municipalities with a more adequate tax base — not to hand them everything they want, which would be foolhardy and probably unaffordable down the road. But the municipalities need assistance for the base requirements of water, sewer, police, and fire protection. With the proliferation of acreage homes, all using septic tanks and lagoons, we face a looming joint environmental problem unless the province takes action soon to assist municipalities, providing the basic requirements. Then let the municipalities take the responsibility for keeping the lid on costs of social and recreation services.

Mr. Chairman, let me say that I have full confidence in the Minister of Municipal Affairs. Given the backing of the government, Mr. Johnston has the ability to come up with an equitable funding program. He could start now on a program to reconcile the inequities, for example, between the county of Strathcona, with its enormous industrial assessment, and the municipalities of St. Albert and MD Sturgeon, with practically none.

In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, I'd like to refer to the permissive legislation in 1972 which gave municipalities the right to tax buildings under construction.

"No more Mayor's Column" revives old conflict

The dispute between St. Albert council, the St. Albert Gazette and its publisher St. Albert MLA Ernie Jamison goes on — with little sign of a slackening of pace.

At its regular meeting last Monday night, St. Albert council received a recent letter from Mr. Jamison, publisher of the Gazette telling Mayor Dick Plain that "The Gazette has decided to discontinue the practice of providing space for the Mayor's Column, beginning with the June 1 issue."

It also received a letter from Mr. Jamison on Legislative Assembly letterhead asking Alderwoman Myrna Fyfe for a public apology for "your untruthful statement at last Tuesday's council meeting."

Ald. Fyfe said she had asked that Mr. Jamison's letter to herself be put on the agenda "to demonstrate the problem we face."

Ald. Fyfe did not make an apology for the alleged untruths, she claimed they did not exist.

Ald. Fyfe checked out the article in the May 25 Edmonton Journal where it was stated there had been no unjust motive in trying to get the Minister of Municipal Affairs help close the rift between the council and the MLA.

She also said that she had made any reference to what the MLA had said in the House, interpreted that Edmonton be allowed to take over St. Albert.

Ald. Fyfe said that she had made no such statement but that she had met the MLA and he had said "in rather loud terms" that she should check (the facts) "or he would take strong action."

"No matter what we do to improve," she said, "we seem to drift further apart."

She was still calling for a meeting with the Minister to "demonstrate the problems we face."

IT'S WORTH READING IT

Earlier on in the council meeting, Mayor Plain read out the letter which outlined the Gazette policy on the Mayor's column.

He said it was worth reading.

The mayor pointed out that he did not see the phenomenon of columns from MPs, MLAs and mayors in dailies but that these were the bread and butter of the weeklies.

(The letter from the Gazette makes it clear space will be available in the paper for the youth worker's column, the parks and recreation department, the St. Albert Library and the Social Services Department. The publisher has also made it clear that the same rule will apply to the columns from other politicians, including the MLA, and more space will be devoted to interviews with public figures and news features.)

While Mayor Plain pointed out that as from June 1 his Mayor's column would not be in the Gazette, he pointed out that the Gazette had published MP Peter Elzinga "In Touch With Parliament."

He also referred to correspondence published recently on the question of the Airborne Division's move east, from the Premier.

"We have a situation in which council's chief spokesman will be banned from setting out ... (an) outlook of council's activities," Mayor Plain said, suggesting the same would not be the case for other politicians and the MLA.

The mayor claimed that this would be discrimination and wanted further clarification.

Mayor Plain asked what was the best way of setting out information in front of the public, if there was to be no other communication with residents (via a column).

This was said in the context such action might be necessary "if there were differences."

MAYOR GIVES EXAMPLE OF INACCURATE STORY

As the discussion went on, Mayor Plain criticized a recent

This was a good move, and one I supported. However I want to remind the minister that the legislation should assist both the municipality and school board jurisdictions, particularly in fast growing centres. I am looking forward to an amendment this fall to The Municipal Government Act which will assure that both jurisdictions do in fact benefit.

Finally I'd like to say I believe it is time for this government to take the lead in the areas I have mentioned, before further growth occurs in the Edmonton region. While we study the studies, mistakes have been made. More will be made if we do not take this lead.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

MR. JOHNSTON: Well, Mr. Chairman, the hon. Member for St. Albert has made a very cogent and well-thought-out presentation during the estimates. I certainly appreciate the views he has expressed. They are views which have been of concern to others and to our department as well. I take the opportunity to respond to the three broad points he made.

article in the Gazette (June 1 issue) headed "A look at where we are going in a growing metropolitan area."

He pointed out during the meeting that St. Albert council was not annexing land to its northwest and northeast; that was being done by BACM and St. Albert Investments. He was referring to the first paragraph of the story which states, "This map shows the areas proposed for annexation by the city councils of St. Albert and Edmonton."

However, one annexation (5500 acres) is proposed by St. Albert and that had been approved in a vote by St. Albert taxpayers.

As the discussion went on, Alderman Rod Thronson said he was getting a little tired of the merry-go-round and said that if the publisher of the Gazette did not want the mayor's column, then "I do not think we have much choice."

He wanted a meeting of minds and asked, "Do we have to shoot it out in the streets of St. Albert?"

Otherwise, he said the situation was getting nowhere; "We are just sitting around taking potshots at each other."

Alderman Frank Lukay termed the annexation story in the Gazette, (already referred to) as a deliberate attempt to misinform the public.

But he suggested that the city should not be averse to buying space in the Gazette if it wanted its views put forward.

Alderman Barry Breadner, in a studied statement, said he remembered clearly four or five years ago — at a meeting of about 50 people — that Mr. Jamison had taken former Mayor of St. Albert Ray Gibbon to task for not putting a column in the paper.

"And now he has cut you off," said Ald. Breadner, directing this remark at the mayor.

He asked if there were not ways and means to increase communication with the citizens of St. Albert via the Edmonton Journal.

MYRNA FYFE STATEMENTS BACKED

Later, Ald. Barry Breadner and Mayor Plain pointed out they had no quarrel with Ald. Myrna Fyfe's statements as reported in the Edmonton Journal.

"Her proposals were positive and conciliatory," said Ald. Breadner with Mayor Plain adding that the statement was accurate "in its entirety."

Mayor Plain also said that it was the people of St. Albert who would have to sort out the problem with the MLA in the long run; the council itself "was proceeding at a satisfactory level at technical and ministerial levels."

The people, said Mayor Plain might make a harsh judgement and wouldn't put up with the (state of affairs) much longer.

Ald. Gary Wetsch said the only reaction from the MLA was "he wants public apologies after we ask for a better relationship."

Mayor Plain finished with saying that the MLA had made his bed and now he would have to lie in it.

REFLECTS BELIEFS

The Gazette

AN UPLIFTING OF THE SPIRIT

It was a rewarding experience Tuesday morning to take an hour from a busy day and watch the television presentation of the service held in St. Paul's Cathedral to mark the 25th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth, and to hear the solemnly splendid address of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Rewarding because the service lifted up the spirit and left a good, clean feeling. The Archbishop expressed the gratitude of the people for their Queen's "stable family life, a wonderfully happy one." Dignity, reverence and joy, and a precious sense of mankind's continuity pervaded the service.

On later reflection it became clear that the most uplifting scene of the morning was the sea of people who surrounded Queen Elizabeth on every side as she left the cathedral and began her walk through the streets of London, and their tumultuous response to this woman.

A woman who set herself high standards of integrity, self-discipline, morality and responsibility. A woman who has studied long and well, and worked long and well, to carry out her demanding work so successfully. A woman who has lived her life in the public eye and elicited only such personal criticism as "her voice is too schoolgirlish, or her clothes are not the utmost in current fashion."

This is the woman who, in setting such an outstanding example, has won the overwhelming respect and true affection of her people at home and in fact of people everywhere in the world. That is an uplifting reflection in a society where the woman in Playboy's centrefold wins overnight fame. In a world where the so-called "beautiful" women of the jet set outdo each other in lavish consumption and trendy leisure pursuits.

The weekend had brought a soul-chilling documentary on CBC radio of what child pornography is doing to our children and the billions of dollars it is pouring into the control of unscrupulous adults. The financial bulletins arriving in the mail brought gloomy news of a western world heavily in debt, whose paper currencies were described as a house of cards which a slight movement could topple, bringing untold depression and hardship to millions of common people.

Yes, the service for Queen Elizabeth and the response to her from millions of people around the world, brought a refreshing lift to the spirit, and one that was needed.

As a 4H member I had the opportunity to attend the Alberta 4H Conservation Camp, sponsored by Calgary Power and Alberta Power-Northland Utilities Ltd. At this time of year, conserving our resources seems to be important and I would like to share some of my thoughts.

It is a fact of life that pollution results from people. Conservation is a conscious effort to offset and hopefully eliminate, pollution. People are not about to be eliminated, but we as people can be made more aware of what we can do to help conservation efforts.

Each and everyone of us must become more conscious of our environment before there is no decent environment to be conscious of.

World-wide or city-large pollution problems obviously cannot be tamed overnight by a few determined individuals.

Every person has to chip in and do his small part in fighting to save tomorrow. If we are going to be able to offer future generations the opportunities we now have to enjoy nature and life, we must make sure the loss of our resources (air, water, soil, plant, and animal life) doesn't continue as it has during our lifetime.

Man has been the greatest despoiler of our resources, but only he has the power to check this destruction and bring about the restoration and renewal required. You as a person of a deteriorating environment have a responsibility to fulfill. There are numerous little things a person can do to conserve our resources.

Stop LITTERING is the first step. Pitching garbage across the land only shows the irresponsibility of certain persons in disrespecting life. If we had never littered, there would be nothing to clean up. Unfortunately, we have littered and it is time to do something about it. This spring, young people all across the province made a very successful effort to clean the highways and roadsides of Alberta. There were literally tons of garbage hauled away from places where "$100 fines for littering" signs were posted. Even the smallest piece of garbage can have an effect on the ecosystem. It takes over 100 years for a cigarette butt to decompose.

Here are a few steps in which you can help conserve. Old newspapers can be brought to paper bins and can then be recycled. Bottles, also, can be saved and recycled. Have compost heaps instead of throwing away vegetable matter. When camping, do not cut down or mark good trees—use only dead wood. Care must be taken in making and putting out fires. Proper cultivation and soil use: retard the runoff flow by covering the soil surface with vegetation. Pollution of water affects the water used for domestic, industrial, agricultural, recreational, and other beneficial purposes. Cutting down on amount of water used is a good step towards conservation. Five gallons of water are used each time the toilet is flushed.

You as a person in this world can take a front line position in fighting to save tomorrow for yourselves and your children. It is only through individual concern and pressure that one can achieve real results.

REMEMBER: Conserve today; save tomorrow!

Mayor taken aback at sudden changes proposed

St. Albert Mayor Dick Plain was miffed last week at the suddenness at which major changes were recommended by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission on St. Albert's 5,000 acre annexation bid.

At the June 1 meeting of the ERPC, the Commission termed the 5,000 acre annexation premature and according to Mayor Plain, this, along with other new recommendations on the annexation was "just dropped on the table."

Mayor Plain suggested that more time might have been given for St. Albert's comment on the ERPC's new position "so that we can carefully analyze the points."

The "dumping" of the new annexation recommendations Mayor Plain termed "one of the most unfair things anyone has done in the Commission."

At last week's meeting, ERPC members decided to follow staff recommendations which will be put before the Local Authorities Board hearings in St. Albert June 20.

The major change in the ERPC's stance is that St. Albert will have to tone down its demands for industrial land from 960 to 575 acres.

The LAB will be left with the decision on where this land will be located.

The LAB will also be told by the ERPC that no opposition will be raised against the need for commercial land proposed within annexation areas.

Transportation links with St. Albert and Edmonton should be at a level where the LAB and provincial government are satisfied no large problems will arise.

St. Albert, the LAB will be told, should reduce its time period in the annexation plan to the 15-20 year range.

John Hilliard, planner with the ERPC explains that with the extra time available after hearings were postponed at the end of April, the LAB will expect a more intelligent comment than the one previously passed by the ERPC.

The major part of the recommendation is that annexation should be granted on the most acceptable land use projections during the next 15 to 20 years.

"Annexations beyond that projection should be held in abeyance until analysis or monitoring in the next five to 10 years can be conducted on the success of developments in the lands annexed in the near future. Until final annexations are warranted the land should be reserved in low density agriculture."

The ERPC backs St. Albert's bid in asking for a quarter section of land for residential purposes.

"This commission does not oppose the annexation of residential land proposed from a regional point of view."

To keep Restricted Development Area (RDA) lands from falling into the hands of either Edmonton or St. Albert, the ERPC will urge the LAB to rule the RDA area remain zoned low density agriculture.

St. Albert has not justified the annexation of 1,000 acres in the proposal, the report said, and commission members agreed the land should not be used unless it is used to square off boundaries in some areas of St. Albert.

Nursery approved at Bertha Kennedy

A proposed nursery service at Bertha Kennedy School vice at Bertha Kennedy School was given approval in principle Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the district 3 school board.

Bertha Kennedy principal Ross Johnson told the board that the program would be operated by Mrs. Anne Milne, 22 Lafonde Crescent, and a qualified teacher.

The program would operate with two schedules. One group of children would come to the school Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 9 - 11:30, while the other group would use the service Tuesday and Thursday in the same time period. Those attending the three day schedule would be levied a fee of $30 per month, with the other group being charged $20 per month.

The service will be offered for pre-school children and will operate only on school days. It will be located in the study room at Bertha Kennedy school, and will utilize some of the school's gym equipment.

The staff at the community school feel that the school will benefit from such a program, as it will enable more volunteer mothers to work in the school, while their children are being cared for by the service. This would be free to these parents who are giving their time to the school. It is also possible that the service will be the source of an option class in the field of child care for grade seven students. In addition, a program may be co-ordinated through volunteer parents for a "Mother's Day Out," one day each week.

The nursery service will pay a small facilities fee to the board for replacement of equipment, to be determined by the board. Further details concerning the administration and legal implications of the program will be handled by the board in coming weeks.

Rodeo parade is on - rain or shine

Come rain or shine, the Kinsmen Rodeo Parade will begin at 10 o'clock on June 18 from the form-up area at Gate Avenue and Grandin Road, and parade chairman Ben Lemieux reports many exciting entries. There is a St. Bernard dog entry which Ben describes as "fantastic," plus Andy Lee and his beautiful Palimino horse, "Cactus," the beautiful Edmonton Eskimo Q-Tees and pony chuckwagon and chariot entries.

Other highlights are the Edmonton Boys Pipe Band, the Klondike Mounted Square Dancers, the Edmonton All Girls Marching Band and the Edmonton Strutters Drum Corp.

HELP!

Chairman Lemieux is counting on the co-operation of St. Albert residents who live on the parade route. They are reminded to remove cars from the street early that Saturday morning - most particularly in the form-up area. There will be considerable congestion at Gate and Grandin as entries move in between 8:30 and 10 a.m. and all residents are requested to avoid taking this route at this time.

JAILS AND CLOWNS PART OF THE ACT

For the Kinsmen the day will get started about 6:30 a.m. when the Kin Paddy Wagon will appear in the downtown area and move off into residential areas. Mr. Lemieux hopes no one will fret if subpoenaed to the travelling jail and asked to come aboard. "A small fine may be levied upon you by our judge - but this will be a fun time with clowns and shenanigans to set the mood for the big rodeo parade."

John Kaminski is always fair game for a shakedown by the Breakfast Lions - but he may not be up and around at 6:30 a.m., (hint to Kin - get his home address). Joe Meleshko might be on Perron street early - very hard to shake down for fines though. The Bruin Inn coffee shop will be open - watch out Bernice and Fran. We understand that Betty Bremner in Grandin gets a very generous housekeeping allowance from husband Reg - she might be on the early morning shift there. And either Dr. Bill or Ethel Cuts could be out gardening or jogging down Green Grove Drive. Anything's fair in Rodeo Week - but just how are those Kinsmen going to use the money collected?

THE CITY OF St. Albert INVITATION TO TENDER

Tenders are invited for the Sir Winston Churchill Avenue Improvement, St. Albert.

The work includes approximately 11,000 linear feet of concrete curb, 12,000 square yards of asphaltic pavement, together with other ancillary works.

grounds it is now possible to have horses involved and the Klondike Mounted Square Dancers are certain to be a big attraction Sunday. They will also be in the parade and will perform at the grounds on the weekend. Pony chuck and chariot outfits, another top crowd pleaser will be on hand also. These attractions were added to the St. Albert Rodeo for the first time last year, and the races are both exciting and colourful. They will run after the opening ceremonies.

Two pipers from the Viscount Pipe Band will play for highland dances by the students of Mrs. Kathol, St. Albert highland dancing teacher, for the Cheryl Walters school. This is a colourful and entertaining choice for an outdoor celebration.

SCHOOL TUG-OF-WAR

A new feature this year will involve 120 kids from eight elementary schools in St. Albert in tug-of-war competitions. They will be competing for a trophy, planned as an annual event. The tug-of-war will take the form of a double draw elimination event with the final pull off about 4 o'clock.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

St. Albert can be proud of its school bands and four or five of these will be playing at the grounds from 12:30 and throughout the afternoon, through an arrangement worked out between Jim Watt of the Kinsmen committee and Brian McGee at Paul Kane school. This will give St. Albert residents a grand opportunity to hear what the young people can do, and their music will brighten up the celebrations. In addition the MGJ Band will be on hand with their sound equipment - they are the group who will be entertaining at the Legion hall for rodeo time.

The fourth annual two-man canoe races will get underway about 2 o'clock and Mr. Watt reports that entries for this event are beginning to come in well. The course will be about one and one-quarter mile out and back for a total of two and one-half miles. The plan is for the newly-crowned rodeo queen to present the prizes to the winners and also for the tug-of-war winners. Last year winners of the canoe race, the Kehoe Brothers have indicated they will be defending their title. The five princesses will be part of the afternoon's program and queen chairman, Klaus Dingle will announce the winner at 3:30, after which she will be crowned. This will be a tense time for five lovely girls.

The Kinsmen will be bringing in a caterer for the afternoon with food and soft drinks, coffee etcetera.

Kinsman Norm Tate will have his CF Dunk Tank on the grounds all afternoon, so people can have a lot of fun dunking each other - a sight the spectators are sure to enjoy. Proceeds from the tank will go to Cystic Fibrosis research fund, a kinsmen project.

Elsewhere around town the Sailfish Swim Club is hosting its annual rodeo swim meet when swimmers from Fort Saskatchewan, Leduc and Spruce Grove will be competing with our local athletes. A highlight of this event will be the prominent people relay race in which members of the Kinsmen will challenge local Lions, RCMP officers and members of the Sailfish executive. Apparently the smart money is going on the mounties from grapevine reports.

Parents satisfied with school hours

According to a survey taken by school district 3, most parents in the jurisdiction are satisfied with the time at which school starts each morning.

Of the parents polled, 85 percent found the starting hour to be satisfactory. Twelve percent stated they would prefer a later time, and three percent would have the schools open earlier.

District 3 schools do not all open at the same time, as staggered opening hours permit more flexibility for the necessary triple busing run. This coming year, the absence of students from the Sturgeon district will permit even greater flexibility.

Friday, June 10 is the St. Albert Lions Club 25th Charter Night. The evening Lions Club is celebrating 25 years of service to St. Albert through providing the Lions Park, sponsoring the 533 Air Cadet Squadron, little league baseball, cash awards to both the high school top graduates, walk-a-thons, Lions Cardiac Centre, an automobile for the blind, and many other services where either manpower, or financial help is required. The Lions motto is "We Serve," which the St. Albert Lions faithfully follow. The Gazette is grateful to Lion Jim Kimball for providing this interesting photo of the original Lions officers in 1952. Left to right, back row: Rene Terrault, 3rd vice president; Bill Herron, Lion Tamer; Ken Riley, secretary-treasurer; Charles Horricks, 2nd vice president, and Front row, George Kluthe, 1st vice president; E. Three schools get new heating units

Several schools in jurisdiction of school district 6 have been given the go-ahead from the School Buildings Board to proceed with repairs and improvements to heating systems under the Building Quality Restoration program.

The Buildings Board has granted recognition of need for Sir George Simpson School, Leo Nickerson School and Robert Rundle School.

The province will support the costs of replacing five classroom heaters at Robert Rundle school to a maximum amount of $2,040. Eight classroom heating units will be replaced at Leo Nickerson school, with the province contributing a maximum of $3,536 to support costs. At Sir George Simpson school, one classroom heating unit will be replaced. The government will give a maximum of $340 toward the cost of this replacement.

St. Albert Council Briefs

Following are highlights from the regular meeting of St. Albert council last Monday night. Mayor Dick Plain was in the chair and all councillors were present.

COUNCIL GAVE second and third reading to bylaw 14/77 which places a water purchase contract with Edmonton before the Public Utilities Board for approval.

The bylaw is connected with St. Albert's attempts to get an additional water supply from Edmonton.

FRANK PIDNER, 93 Grosvenor Boulevard, was before council again with his request that the property bordering Tamora Court and Grosvenor Boulevard should be acquired for park purposes.

The request has been referred to the Municipal Planning Commission for further discussion and a land use decision will be made at a future meeting of council.

JASPER AUTO PARTS will have to look slick about removing "unsightly" dismantled vehicles outside its fences on the St. Albert Trail.

St. Albert council got tough on the matter and said that bylaw 3/77 will be invoked if the vehicles are not cleared within 30 days.

THE PERSISTENT whining of a model airplane's engine really got council's goat at the council session last Monday night.

There were reports from aldermen of irate citizens chasing model airplane fliers from their property, with the Lacombe Park area and Salisbury Avenue being singled out for special mention.

Alderman Rod Thronson termed model airplanes as a good hobby, but noisy, and suggested that council look for a place like the rodeo grounds for people to fly them.

The whole problem of model aircraft noise and hazards presented by motorized bikes on walkways is likely to come up for discussion at MPC. And council may also check out what legislation it has at its disposal to bring the problem under control.

COUNCIL MAY invite Constable John MacDonald of the St. Albert detachment of the RCMP to come before them with a report on the St. Albert "Neighbourhood Watch" program. It is likely that the RCMP will be invited to appear before the next committee of the whole meeting.

COUNCIL RECEIVED a letter from the president of the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association regarding conditional grants; "an item dear to the hearts of many of us," said Mayor Dick Plain.

COUNCIL RECEIVED a communication from the city clerk, Calgary, regarding a municipal-provincial conference on Bill 15 - the Planning Act 1977.

Alderman Margaret Smith presented a motion, later withdrawn, that she wanted to see the provincial government meet with the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association and the Alberta

Association of Municipal Districts and Counties to discuss the Planning Act before the bill went any further.

Ald. Smith wants it indicated to the provincial government that there is widespread interest in the province for such a meeting.

A SPECIAL COMMITTEE of the whole will be set up to review the recommendations and to develop a policy position with respect to the provisions of the proposed Planning Act.

COUNCIL MOVED receipt of a development control resolution which is to provide rules to establish an OC-1 (office - commercial) classification on Lot A Block 1, Plan 1790. This land is bounded by the St. Albert Trail to the east and Gervais Road to the north.

Council will also advertise its intent to adopt the development control resolution and there will be a public hearing on the matter July 4.

COUNCIL MOVED that it not endorse a development control resolution for a storage yard on the St. Albert Trail just across from Newman College.

The development control resolution was not endorsed because it was felt the development would badly affect the aesthetics of the area. The area is prominently residential, not industrial and the proposal use would not have conformed with council policy on the development of the green belt.

School District 3 Briefs

At their regular meeting, held Tuesday, May 31, trustees of School District 3 attended to the following items of business.

Trustee Peter Freeman moved that an expended maternity leave be granted to Mrs. Young for the 1977-78 school year. The motion carried.

Trustee Elsie Lockert moved that maternity leave be granted to Mrs. Hopkins for the period from October 15 to February 1 inclusive. The motion carried.

Mrs. Lockert moved that the board support the United Nations and International Affairs Summer School at Goldeye Centre in August to the amount of $85. The motion carried. The money will cover the costs of one of two Grade 11 students attending the summer school. The students going are Jo Ann Bolton and Monique Gervais.

Peter Freeman moved that the recommendations of the Christian Education Committee be approved. The motion carried. The committee recommended that next year two twilight retreats be held, a school opening day mass, and a session at one of the Institutes.

Trustee Ernie Howrsh reported that the Finance Committee had reviewed Briggs Brothers rates for the coming year and was "quite pleased" with them. He moved that the new rates be approved and the motion carried.

Mr. Howrsh moved that Bob Chaput's recommendations in regard to the Instructional Materials Centre be implemented to the extent of personnel costs. The motion carried. Mr. Chaput had recommended that a central media catalogue be produced, with annotations, and that central media catalogues be interfiled with school library card catalogue. A secretary and a library technician would be needed to carry out the job.

Peter Freeman moved that the board authorize the Department of Education to release data on financial matters to the Alberta School Trustees Association. The motion carried. The data is not to include individual teachers or student records.

The resignations of Mrs. Oliphant, Mr. Szybunka, Mr. Fix, Mrs. Savich and Mr. Lavigne were moved accepted and the motion carried.

Interclub Council Briefs

At their regular monthly meeting at the St. Albert Inn, members of the Interclub Council heard the following reports:

Marg Iseke reported that the members of the Women's Institute has encountered some difficulties in regard to the Kinsmen Community Bus on their way to Olds. The bus was waved over to the weigh scale and some necessary documents for the bus were not available. Kinsmen Ron Lauder told the group that the government was cracking down on community buses and that all were being checked at the weigh scales. Mrs. Iseke said the W.I. would have a display at Klondike Days and would raffle off an afghan. The W.I. has made donations to the city ambulance and to the W.W. Cross Institute.

Shirley Sorsdahl reported for the Legion, and said that the noon lunches will continue from Monday to Friday. The Associate members of the Legion will stage a Western Night June 7. There will be a smorgasbord and a door prize of a fully equipped canoe. Tickets are $10 each, and dancing will be to the music of Ed Chwill and the Northwinds.

Mrs. Sorsdahl also reported that the Legion Ladies will hold their wind-up event June 20, and a fashion show on September 18. On September 28, a games night will be held, and on November 20, the Legion Ladies Fall Tea and Bazaar will be held. They will also hold a Grey Cup Pool in the fall, and a handicraft raffle.

Lois Fabi reported that the Hospital Auxiliary was holding their Nearly New Sale, Sunday, June 5, and will hold their wind-up event June 17, for people who have assisted the Auxiliary in its work.

On behalf of the Kinsmen, Ron Lauder reported that the Mayor will proclaim Rodeo Week on June 12 at the Rodeo grounds. The Rodeo Queen will be crowned, square dance riders will perform and a tug-of-war and canoe races will be held. On June 16, 17 and 18, the club will hold their casino at The St. Albert Inn, and the Rodeo itself will be held June 17, 18 and 19. The show will start Friday evening at 7 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. The parade will be held Saturday morning, and a $7,300 boat will be raffled off Sunday, June 19. The Kinsmen Flea Market will be held June 17, 18 and 19 at the St. Albert arena. There will be 180 tables of goods, and the sale will run from 11 a.m. till 7 p.m. each day.

Mr. Lauder also reported that the Kinettes had collected about 130 pints at their May 19 Blood Donor Clinic, and of these, 109 were usable. The Kinettes will have a food booth at the Rodeo.

Paul Gauthier reported that the Supper Lions will hold their 25th Charter Night on June 10 at the Club Mocombo. Tickets are $25 per couple and are available from members of the club. Original charter members and past presidents will be present. The club will hold its annual Rodeo Breakfast on Saturday, June 18 at Lions Park. Mr. Gauthier told the meeting that the club has signed an agreement with the city, under which the city will assume responsibility for the park's maintenance.

Joe Jones reported for the Breakfast Lions that although the weather was bad for the bike-a-thon, the event still brought in money. A trophy will be presented to the service club who earned the most money. On October 21, the club will hold its Car Draw and Games Night. The event will be held at the Club Mocombo, and a smorg will be available. Tickets are $25 per couple and the draw will be an elimination draw. The first ticket drawn wins $100, and every 25th ticket wins $25. The second last ticket wins a colour TV, and the last ticket wins the car.

Blair Art reported for the Kiwanis Club that the club will take on responsibility for the construction of one play station at the creative playground at Ronald Harvey school. They will also contribute volunteer effort to the Commonwealth Games. The Games have 2,000 volunteers lined up now and expect to use eight or nine thousand in the future.

EDUCATION COMMENT

Mennonites refuse to compromise on schools

The rejection of the public school system by Mennonites and their desire to form their own independent schools is causing consternation amongst school boards. Twenty-four members of Mennonite groups have attended three meetings with trustees and government officials this month, in an attempt to resolve the issue. Four school divisions and three school districts are immediately affected by the problem.

The Alberta School Trustees Association initiated the meetings, hoping to arrive at a compromise which would meet the needs of both the public school system and the Mennonites.

The keystone of the controversy lies in the public school system's use of certificated teachers. The Mennonites contend that the very process of education leading to certification renders the teacher unacceptable to the Mennonite church. The values and attitudes accumulated during such training are not in keeping with Mennonite beliefs.

Mennonite schools already exist at Spirit River, Newell and Stirling, and are proposed for Camrose, Stettler, Three Hills and East Smoky. Trustees at the meetings from these areas found the Mennonites unwilling to compromise their objectives.

They will continue to run the schools at their own expense, with no outside funding, provide their own teachers, and will generally adhere to the provincial curriculum. They are willing to have the schools inspected by local board officials if required.

According to the Department of Education, there is no legal process permitting department interference, and responsibility to take action lies with local school boards. Court action against the independent schools could be taken by the local board on the grounds that the schools are failing to provide a suitable education or on the ground that Mennonite children have failed to attend an approved school.

However, boards are unwilling to do this, and past charges based on non-attendance have resulted in nominal fines or dismissal of the charges.

A spokesman for the Mennonites at the last meeting indicated that refusal by local authorities to permit the schools to operate would be regarded as persecution of a minority and would result in departure from this country.

After the meetings concluded, trustees took a resolution to their boards recommending the schools be allowed to operate. If this was unacceptable, boards would pass alternative proposals to the ASTA executive so suitable action could be undertaken.

The endorsement of independent schools could have serious ramifications for other partisan groups and the public school systems.

College announces innovative project

Hy Sheinin, director of the Continuing Education Division, Grant MacEwan Community College announced recently a pilot project for delivery of college programs in off-campus locations.

The project, running from May 1, 1977 to June 30, 1978, is intended to develop the resources to deliver the Teachers' Aide program, co-operatively with other institutions, to off-campus locations. This project will serve as a prototype for developing off-campus capability in all career programs.

Mr. Sheinin explained that, "Grand MacEwan Community College is presently negotiating with two regionally based post-secondary institutions to deliver the program in two or three locations within the region.

This kind of project means a more effective use of resources and increased flexibility in meeting needs."

"A larger institution, such as Grant MacEwan Community College, with sufficient resources for program development can develop a program package that can be offered co-operatively, through a regionally based institution. The regionally based institution then supervises the delivery of the program."

"We are hopeful that delivery of the Teachers' Aide Program in off-campus locations will begin in September of 1977; we are excited by the prospects."

For further information, contact the project supervisor, Jack Scharf, at 474-8521.

Gallery to offer summer workshops

The Edmonton Art Gallery will offer three workshops this summer from July 26 to 28 on animated film-making, simple weaving and general art for Elementary school teachers.

The fee for each of these workshops is $30 and registration, which ends July 11, is limited and on a first-come, first-served basis.

Participants to the Animated Film-making Workshop will experiment with simple methods of animated film making such as cut-outs, cel-animation, pixillation, object animation, sand animation, drawing on 16 mm film, editing, splicing and sound effects.

The instructor for this workshop is Ms. Fran Savage who is an art consultant with the Edmonton Public School Board. She has been teaching animated film making for many years.

The workshop on Simple Weaving is designed for teachers at the elementary and junior high school levels and any person interested in contemporary sculptural weaving. Participants will explore three dimensional weaving with the aid of ancient basketry techniques, coiling, twining and plaiting. Techniques of making sculptural shapes will be explored ranging from simple shapes to woven masks, wall hangings and free standing sculpture. Included in the workshop will be slide presentations of Canadian Indian and ancient Mexican basketry, contemporary basketry, masks and free standing sculpture.

The instructor for this workshop is Ms. Pirkko Karvonen who has been a teacher for the extension services of the Edmonton Public and Separate school boards. She has conducted many workshops in Alberta and other parts of the country and is currently working for the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower at the Frog Lake Indian Reservation. Her work is included in the Alberta Art Foundation collection.

The workshop on General Art for Elementary School Teachers is designed to benefit all elementary teachers but particularly those with little or no art training. The emphasis in the instruction is on the exploration and innovation of art materials as well as the planning of a comprehensive sequential art program.

The instructor for this workshop is Mr. Keith Muirhead who is a former art consultant and teacher with the Edmonton Public School Board. He is currently the principal of Virginia Park Fine Arts Core Elementary School in Edmonton. Mr. Muirhead has conducted many workshops for teachers throughout the province.

Besides writing for Studio West of the CBC, he is also involved in writing a new art curriculum. He is also an active member of the Fine Arts Council.

Browsers here are pictured as they enjoy the visual parade of art work done by students of Paul Kane School. The Festival of the Arts, running from June 6-10, features work by students in Art 10, 20, 30 and 31, as well as band concerts, fashion shows and a Reader's Theatre.

Camping

Know and avoid poisonous plants, shrubs and bushes. Wear long sleeves and long pants in the woods. But if you are exposed wash the affected areas thoroughly with soap. Bites from bees, wasps, hornets, etc. can be painful, and in some instances, fatal. Applying ice to the affected area relieves the pain. Should the swelling be extensive lose no time seeing a doctor.

Lightning is dangerous. During thunder storms you should avoid hill tops, isolated trees and metal fences, and if caught on open water, head for shelter immediately.

Don't handle strange animals or try to make pets of them. Wild animals, no matter how tame they may appear, are still wild.

School Days In St. Albert

Akins bands perform brilliantly

"The halls were alive with the sound of music." This may not be the exact wording of the first line of the theme song from The Sound of Music movie, but nevertheless it indicates the atmosphere that was evident Friday evening at Lorne Akins Junior High School.

Approximately 120 young band students entertained a large crowd of over 200 people in their annual spring concert and for the two hour performance toes were tapping and hands were clapping continuously. Under the direction of band teacher, Mr.

Eugene Osoba, the Grades 7, 8 and 9 bands, as well as a special appearance by the school's stage band, were all featured.

The Grade 7's, making their first public appearance, performed four songs, among which was the very popular and traditional folk song, Londonderry Air. It was very evident from their brief appearance that once this young group of musicians reaches its grade 9 year, they will most certainly form one of the top junior high bands in the Edmonton area.

The grade 8 band showed the results of almost two years' experience as they tackled the very difficult Dance Parisienne and performed this number very well indeed. Other popular songs with the audience included Mack the Knife and By the Time I Get to Phoenix.

Try To Remember and Gypsy Rose were two of the most memorable numbers performed by the grade 9 band, and once again, the result of three years' training was obvious. This group of students particularly is to be commended for its excellent performance.

To many, the highlight of the evening was the appearance of the Lorne Akins stage band. In its first full year of operation; this group certainly sent the audience home in a cheery frame of mind. Some outstanding solo work by trumpeter Bruce Grant, saxophonists Donita Rokosh and David Clark, and drummer James Letts were obvious in such numbers as Bossa Fuego, Love Will Keep Us Together, and I Write the Songs. A bit of nostalgia was in store for the older members of the audience as the group performed a rendition of the Hoagy Carmichael hit song Stardust. And who didn't leave the gymnasium stomping his feet to the beat of The Hustle?

It was a very memorable and enjoyable evening Friday night and the band members of Lorne Akins Junior High and particularly their leader, Mr. Osoba, deserve great recognition. Let's hope that music will remain an integral part of our school system as Friday's performance certainly proves the worth of such a program.

Ronald Harvey students win prizes

by Anna Nord

The Grade 5 students at Ronald Harvey school entered the Alberta Forestry Association Poster competition. The posters were on specific topics such as fire prevention, pollution, ecology, wildlife, natural resources, or generally on forest conservation. Dana Evans won $20 for second prize. Her poster was entered in the national finals.

James Wells received honorable mention. He was presented with a book, "Alberta, A Natural History." Congratulations to these students.

A high jumping meet was held at the Vital Grandin school on June 4. Winners from our school were: Boys: age 9, Andrew Barnett, 2nd place; Girls: age 10, Shawna Murray, 1st place; Girls: age 12, Angela Harries, 1st place and Girls: age 12, Barbara Bull, 3rd place.

TEA FOR PARENTS

A tea will be held on Thursday evening, June 9, in honor of the parents who have so generously donated their talent, time and energy during the year to assist the teachers and students.

The Tournesols Bilingual Playschool class pictured above graduated on May 26. THE CITY OF St. Albert PLANNING SERVICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 129 to 134 of the Planning Act, R.S.A. 1970, please be advised that the Council of the City of St. Albert proposes to pass Bylaw No. 28/77, being a bylaw to adopt a General Plan to guide the future development of this community.

The map below indicates the area affected by the Plan and illustrates the general land uses proposed for the Plan area:

The proposed Bylaw No. 28/77, together with the General Plan and a more detailed land use map, may be examined between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays in the Planning Services Section in the City Hall, St. Albert.

A public hearing on the proposed bylaw will be held in the Council Chambers, City Hall Annex, on Wednesday, June 22, 1977, at 7:30 p.m.

Written submissions may be presented at the office of the Municipal Secretary, City Hall, until 12:00 Noon on Friday, June 17, 1977, by any person whose interests may be affected by any provision of the proposed bylaw. Persons wishing to make oral representation may do so by appearing at the public hearing.

Accent on Akins

By Shawna Thronson

Who says there's a drought. Ask any janitor and he'll be able to tell you by the mud and water that has been tracked into our hallowed halls. Perhaps we need the rain to wash a few brains around here to get them started again. As long as they don't rust we're okay. After all, not much gets done after a long weekend especially when one afternoon is taken up with Career Day and the track meet uses up another full day.

This year's Career Day was held on the afternoon of May 25. This was for the grade nines to go out and listen to speakers such as a pilot, RCMP, and a teacher, discuss their occupations. After all, by grade nine you have to start making decisions as to what you aspire to be.

Thursday was a beautiful sunny day which was remarkable in the fact that it was the day of the track meet. Participation was excellent and it was so pleasant just soaking up the sun in between events. The overall winner was Green House.

The outdoor education program in our school is the best it has ever been. This is because of the fine leadership Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Scott and Mrs. Ross have shown.

A major undertaking of the year was building a number of canoes and the following excursions are almost underway. May 29 to June 1 the grade seven outdoor education students will be off to the Whitecourt area for three days of hiking and backpacking. From June 5 to June 8, the grade eight students will return to this same area for three days of survival techniques. From June 12 to June 16 the grade nine outdoor education students will undertake a canoe trip from Red Deer to Drumheller. From June 3 to June 5 the school's outdoor education club, in conjunction with our science club, will undertake a camping trip also in the Whitecourt area. The best of weather to all.

This year's Heritage Day program was held Tuesday, May 31. Ukrainian culture is the theme and with Mr. Kenakin and Mr. Dukovac directing, it had to be a success.

If you enjoy music, you had the opportunity to hear the Lorne Akins' bands on Friday, June 3. The Spring Band concert consisted of the grades 7, 8 and 9 bands as well as the Stage Band. Although the Stage Band has only been in existence this year, it has proven itself worthy, as shown by its high mark in the Kiwanis Music Festival and the enjoyment the youngsters from Sir Alexander Mackenzie and Leo Nickerson received when they listened to it. There was an excellent selection of pieces and we thank those of you who came out to listen.

The graduation committee is very busy planning the prom as there is little time left. Last Friday a disco was held to help raise more funds. The working day and bottle drive were both great successes. Judging by the effort that has been put in by both teachers and students, this year's prom is bound to be the best ever.

The final dates have been set for the final exams, Monday, June 20 is the Language exam; Tuesday, June 21 is the Social Studies exam; Wednesday, June 22 is the Science exam; Thursday, June 23 is the Math exam. June 30 we go pick up our report cards and then we're home free, or is it school free?

Concerning Women Of Today's World

Heritage officer is many things to many people

Heritage officer is a title with a distinctly prestigious ring about it. But for Arlene Borgstede, heritage officer for the St. Albert Historical Society, all is not fascinating research on St. Albert's past. Her job last year involved delivering postcards, setting mousetraps, changing lights, washing and ironing altar linen and buying cleaning supplies.

Plus filing, polishing candlesticks, chastising children who pound the bells with rocks. It's all part of the job for Arlene Borgstede.

Sometime she turns public relations officer - doing interviews with the Edmonton media, the Yellowhead Tourist Guide and even the Reader's Digest. "That promised to be interesting," said Arlene, "and it was quite a surprise about a year ago to get a telephone call from Reader's Digest people in Montreal." She talked for about half an hour answering questions for an interviewer. Sometime later a photographer turned up in St. Albert and that involved Arlene in a three-hour session at the museum which lasted until midnight! Mrs. Borgstede was told the article was being prepared for a book entitled Explore Canada, but she never heard anything more from Reader's Digest until last week, when she received another telephone call. Once again she gave the magazine basically the same information, not knowing exactly when or where it would appear. Her name is listed in Canadian and American directories of museums, and Arlene presumes this was the contact.

GETTING THE OLDTIMERS' STORIES

The major project for Mrs. Borgstede and the Historical Society over 1976 was collecting historical information through interviews with oldtimers of the area. A workshop was put on in January by the Provincial Museum to advise and instruct volunteers on how to collect such information and two tape recorders were purchased. A list of people was gathered and interviewing began following forms on all aspects of the research involved in the interviews. Research at the Provincial and Grey Nuns Archives, municipal files, old newspapers and mutual telephone records, as well as books on history, was carried out, prior to beginning the project.

Seventeen interviews were completed and catalogued last year, and Arlene said many more are yet to be done. Four or five volunteers are at work. The Society has also added to their collection of old photographs.

The heritage officer has conducted pre-arranged tours for students, youth groups, senior citizens and others from many points in the province as well as St. Albert. Arlene also tried attending school classes, taking Eskimo artifacts from the museum. It was a pilot project at the Grade 3 level to interest youngsters in their local history and museum.

but she has received no further requests for such visits.

A DISAPPOINTMENT

Mrs. Borgstede works out of a room in the basement of the Roman Catholic Church, where the artifacts must be stored, and had been greatly looking forward to moving into the old Grandin House. However when it came time to turn on the utilities there were none - all the pipes had burst. This was a real blow for Arlene, who had been counting on the restoration of the main floor in the building and a part of the basement to be used for various functions and a meeting room.

There is a proposal before St. Albert council for a cultural centre, presented early in 1976. Such a centre would serve the interests of all groups interested in culture, such as the Arts and Crafts Guild, the Kiwanis, who are interested in an amateur theatre and others, and it would house the museum as well.

The Society is also working on setting up a foundation to take over Grandin House, which belongs to the Oblate Fathers. The foundation would take the business of raising money to restore Grandin House, out of the hands of the Historical Society. The provincial government would contribute on the basis of a grant matching funds raised.

"Nothing ever goes fast in this work," said Mrs. Borgstede, but she is still hoping that at least the utilities can be put in Grandin House this fall - "that would be such a wonderful help." Another project dear to her heart is the Society's plan to move and restore the original log chapel, now protected by stone work which needs periodic repairs.

Whether things move quickly or slowly, the enthusiasm of Arlene Borgstede for preserving St. Albert's historical heritage never fades, and for this the community can be grateful, for her energy and ability are a large asset to the Society. She would also be the first to point out that the volunteers who work along with the executive, though small in number, deserve much credit for keeping up the interest in St. Albert's past. This is not always easy while the city keeps on growing and many new people come here from other centres who are not aware of our long history, from the establishment of the St. Albert Mission in 1861.

New hostess for welcome wagon

Betty Lovett has been hired to replace Leslie Hogan as Welcome Wagon hostess for St. Albert. Her appointment is official as of June 20, but Mrs. Lovett will begin training this week under the guidance of Mrs. Hogan, who has found it necessary to leave the position through other pressures on her time.

This will be Betty's first experience with Welcome Wagon, but she is well known around St. Albert, having been involved for six years with the Help Society as a board member and in the Homemaker Service, Meals on Wheels and Mother's Day Out programs. The Lovetts have lived in St. Albert for nine years and have five children, two of whom are still living at home. She is enthusiastic about her new job and looking forward to a different kind of work.

Mrs. Lovett has three assistant hostesses for Welcome Wagon: Olga Buma, Vi James and Penny Reeves. The Welcome Wagon also sponsors the Newcomers Club which has been particularly successful in St. Albert.

Marion Ferry to head Council 6

Sturgeon Toastmistress Marion Ferry has been elected President of Council 6 for the 1977-78 term. Council 6 includes all the Toastmistress clubs in the Edmonton area, as far north as Fort McMurray, and south as far as Vermilion. The area takes in a total of 110 clubs.

Council 6 holds four one-day conferences each term to promote knowledge and skills in communication.

Anyone interested in joining the Sturgeon Toastmistress Club may phone 459-5359.

Long trips

Regular rest stops are important to both you as a driver and to your vehicle. Fatigue is a major cause of highway accidents. Don't drive for extended periods and if you've been on the road for some time, stop early. Most accidents occur between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Remember, alcohol and driving never mix. If you stop for refreshment, make it coffee, tea or a soft drink.

Jean Begley writes:

Editor's Note: Jean Begley, now a resident of St. Albert, and widely known authority on etiquette, will be writing a regular column for the Gazette, especially including young people and students, with questions on how to conduct themselves in various social situations. Mrs. Begley will be happy to take phone calls or letters from all readers and advise on their problems in her column.

Hi there! All you nice people in St. Albert; I have been living in your lovely city for seven months now and have enjoyed every minute of it.

Some of you may have read the article written by Mrs. Knight about an interview she had with me, which gave a brief outline of my activities since being accepted as a Canadian.

I love your independent, breezy ways, with so many contrasts and that wonderful way you have of making newcomers one of yourselves.

For many years I have been writing articles and some books and also lecturing on 'Social Graces' and human relations: answering queries in newspapers, magazines and on T.V. and helping people with social problems. I do hope you will let me bring my experience to you by calling 458-7617 or writing me c/o 'The Gazette.' Already at lectures I have answered many questions and replied to many queries phoned and written in to C.I.T.V. For your interest here are a few:

Ques. At a party, when a guest or guests come into the room, should both host and hostess greet them?

Ans. Always make your guests feel welcome by going to greet them. If possible both husband and wife should do this, then bring them over to chat with someone who you feel they would like to talk to and help to get the 'small talk' going, before you move away to greet other guests.

Ques. My 'boy friend' frequently invites me to his home and his family have always made me feel most welcome. Unfortunately I cannot return the 'compliment' as my home is hundreds of miles away on the west coast. I live in a tiny apartment in Edmonton. A short time ago I arranged to have a large basket of fruit sent to my friend's home from a well known store, thinking that this would show his family how much I appreciated his and their kindness. To my dismay on my next visit neither my 'boy friend,' nor his family thanked me for my gift, indeed he told me 'that I should not have sent the fruit.'

I would like to know your opinion of my effort. Was I wrong?

Ans. It is really so sad when people hurt each others' feelings. Please do not have any regrets as you most certainly did the right thing. It was a very kind way of showing your affection and your appreciation of the family's hospitality. I cannot help feeling that there must be some misunderstanding on the part of your 'boy friend's mother, that she did not remember to thank you.

Ques. I am a girl and find it hard to keep the talk going when I meet boys. I am not shy but conversation always seems to die after the first minute. Could you suggest some way to help?

Ans. The art of conversation is like a game of tennis the ball of talk must go from one to the other and back again. You do this not by a plain 'yes' or 'no' to queries, but by asking a further question. For instance 'I am told you are very keen on tennis.' (Now) 'Are you entering in the tournament here next week?' This question keeps the talk going because the question forces an answer. He may reply - 'Yes I am playing and have entered, have you?' This gives you an opportunity to speak again. You might add 'I was hoping to play in the mixed doubles, but have not found a partner yet.' This is only an illustration of what can be done to keep conversation going, but be sure you are a fairly competent mixed doubles tennis player before pushing out invitations as above or you may die a 'thousand deaths' if he asks you to be his partner and you can hardly hit a ball.

A PLEA TO THE PEDESTRIAN

If you are a pedestrian, especially a teen-age pedestrian, and wish to cross the street in a busy thoroughfare, please, please look left, then right, then left again before you step out to cross the pavement. I know that traffic must stop for the pedestrian, but think for a moment of the motorist who has to stand on his brakes and pull up with shrieking tires, to avoid your precipitate action and think of the car's behind him who may not even have seen you step out. After all it is a million to one you will drive an automobile yourself one day, so if you cannot cross the road at a pedestrian crossing, please give the motorist some chance to know your intentions.

In fact Albertan motorists are extraordinarily kind to the 'jay walkers' I have been amazed, having spent some time in New York where I got the impression that a pedestrian was fair game for any 'up-tight' taxi-man.

Women flood NFB with scripts

Studio D, the National Film Board's women's unit, has selected four scripts from the nearly 1300 sent in by more than 700 Canadian women in response to the Studio's nation-wide search for dramatic film material.

Two women received $600 honorariums each, Isabel Huggan of Belleville, Ontario for Celia Behind Me and Helen Sutherland of Toronto for How To Call Cows.

Barbara Novak of Toronto received $300 for her script, Victoria Park, as did Bonnie Buxton of Ottawa for The Coat.

The search for scripts written by women, on topics of concern to women, began last year, explains Kathleen Shannon, head of Studio-D.

"We were looking for fiction material we could use for 15 minute dramatic films and the response we got from women right across Canada was overwhelming," she says.

Each script was read by at least three filmmakers at the Film Board. The best 250 received personal critiques and a final selection of 16 went to a panel of judges outside the NFB.

The themes that concerned Canadian women most, the topics that frequently appeared in the scripts, included the women alone; the neglected or ignored wife; birth control; women trying to relate to the medical profession; child rearing; the difficulties of being a girl-child; the anguish of women trying to broaden their lives beyond the typing pool or dishpan; the misunderstood and neglected subject of aging.

And the letters that accompanied the scripts, says Shannon, were "wonderful, warm ... and revealing."

"Many, many women told us how grateful they were for this opportunity, for the invitation to write. Many said they had never had the courage to write before.

"They felt too timid to risk rejection by sending unsolicited material to magazines and publishers."

For many, this experience provided the added push to take the chance and send their material elsewhere, adds Shannon.

Talent search this fall

"The du Maurier Search for Talent," a national program to seek out and encourage Canadian performers by providing cash bursaries to talented individuals, was announced by Mr. L. E. Ricard, president of Imperial Tobacco Limited.

In addition to the financial incentives provided by du Maurier, the CBC Television Network announced its intention to telecast the results of the nationwide "du Maurier Search" in a series of four prime-time television specials created to provide maximum coast-to-coast exposure for the 15 individuals selected.

The project, originated by the du Maurier Council for the Performing Arts, will provide a total of $55,000 in bursaries, with $2,000 for each of 15 semi-finalists and $5,000 for each of the five finalists.

Mr. Andre Bachand of Montreal, a director of the du Maurier Council, announced details of the project which will begin this fall with a series of preliminary auditions in Montreal, Toronto, Halifax, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Vancouver.

Information and application details are available immediately from Box 38, Station "B", Toronto M5T 2T2, and deadline for receipt of completed applications is September 30, 1977. The "du Maurier Search for Talent," is open to Canadian performers 18 years of age and over. Established arts organizations, who qualify for annual du Maurier grants, are ineligible. Applicants must supply two references from performing arts representatives within the area in which they live.

Individuals accepted for audition will be invited to appear at one of seven centres where auditions will take place in October and November of this year. Talent appearing will be judged by a panel consisting of representatives of the du Maurier Council, CBC Television, and leading performing arts representatives from each area in which auditions take place.

How would you like to take part in the Rodeo Parade, June 18? The St. Albert Library is looking for 12 children to ride on the library's float and impersonate jungle animals. If you are between the ages of 8 and 12 years old, come to the library on Thursday, June 9 at 3:30 p.m.

There is a reward offered to interested applicants.

New books

at the St. Albert Public Library

By Margrit McCreath
I Am The Cheese by Robert Cormier. A government witness against organized crime. Adam, is being interrogated in an unknown institution. During his confinement, he mentally makes a desperate bicycle trip to uncover a harmful post. Adam's pilgrimage can be seen as a withering attack on our internal security system.

Immigrants: A Portrait of the Urban Experience, 1890-1930 by Robert Harney and Harold Troper. Here is a collection of over 150 photographs accompanied by a text describing the background circumstances of European and Asian immigrants to Canadian cities in the four decades from 1890-1930.

Long Live the King by Lyn Tornabene. Clark Gable, the King, the quintessential American movie star, whose jaunty self-assurance and unaffected masculinity made him a hero to millions, comes excitingly to life in this awesomely detailed new biography.

Marry Me by John Updike. John Updike's eighth novel is subtitled "A Romance" because, in his words, "People don't act like that anymore." Set in Connecticut in 1962, it is the story of Jerry Conant and Sally Mathias who are in love and want to get married, though they are already married to others.

Prelude to Bonanza by Allen A. Wright. This book is the most definitive work on the history of the discovery, exploration and development of the Yukon up to the turn of the century. Well-researched and clearly written, it tells of the colourful events and of the determined and imaginative individuals who loved and believed in the great North.

Selected Poems by Margaret Atwood. Margaret Atwood, the most discussed and widely-read writer in Canada, has achieved eminence as a poet, a novelist, and a critic. But it is in her highly charged poems that her literary personality is most impressive and her complex sensibility most exciting. An excellent collection of poetry!

Wood: Materials and Processes by John L. Feiler. Woodworking has always been one of the most popular of all industrial education activities. In spite of the many new materials and courses added in recent years, woodworking has increased rather than decreased in popular favour. This book covers the many changes that have taken place in wood products and processes in the last few years.

Sculpture exhibit at art gallery

During the month of June, The Edmonton Art Gallery will exhibit sculpture from the Gallery's own collection and from the collections of Westburne International Industries, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Scrymgeour, Dr. and Mrs. Max Stern, the Ernest E. Poole Foundation and The Estate of H. R. Nilner.

The works shown are from the 19th and 20th centuries and represent some of the major developments in the history of modern sculpture. Works by Auguste Rodin exemplify the beginning of modern sculpture, with their rich surfaces and clear relation of part to part, and their rejection of dry academic classicism. Impressionist and realist attitudes can be seen in figures by Pierre Renoir, Honore Daumier, Marc-Aurele de Foy Suzor Cote and Antoine-Louis Barye.

The 20th Century is characterized by a proliferation of alternatives. Cubism, the ultimate origin of modernist constructed sculpture, is represented by works by Alexander Archipenko and Ossip Zadkine, while the contemporary constructed idiom is demonstrated in the sculpture of Anthony Caro, Tim Scott, Alan Reynolds, Otto Rogers and Douglas Bentham.

Other 20th Century attitudes are seen in the work of Jacob Epstein, Henry Moore, Giacomo Manzù, Marino Marini and Jean Arp, who explore three-dimensional volumes in relatively traditional ways.

Overwhelming demand for Citadel on Wheels/Wings

Despite playing 390 performances to over 73,000 audiences members in 74 communities, The Citadel on Wheels, the school touring arm of The Citadel Theatre, were still not able to play to all who wanted to see them. An overwhelming demand made it impossible for the team to fill all the orders even with a season already seven months long and extended beyond its regular run.

The season was predominantly Canadian. The kindergarten to Grade 3 play, The Beast in the Bag by Edmonton playwright Isabelle Foord, was performed 187 times. Toronto playwrights Des McAnuff's musical satire Silent Edward entertained audiences for 170 performances in Grades

4 to 9. Senior high school students saw George Herman's modern Commedia play, A Company of Wayward Saints. This was performed for 43 schools and communities.

On April Fool's Day 1977, Bob Collins, Kimm Culkin, R. G. Miller, Margo Pinvidic, John Wheelwright and Robert John Wright played to their final audience. They were looking forward to a holiday, but, as stage manager Robert John Wright said: "The joy and excitement of the children we played to has had its effect on us, enabling six individual actors to survive the rigors and hardships of a long tour with total dedication."

"This is an exciting time for The Wheels," says Keith Digby, director of The Citadel on Wheels. Sponsored by Syncrude Canada, they performed for a week in the Fort McMurray schools. They also played a day in Drumheller Penitentiary and next season's company will play a full week, with a week of workshops leading hopefully to a co-presentation to the inmates given by professionals and the inmates, working together.

Next season, the final season of The Citadel on Wheels/Wings first decade, promises to be even more exciting. In spring 1978 the Wings will be flying into the Northwest Territories and Yukon Territory bringing drama to communities who rarely, if ever see live theatre. A full month's tour is projected encompassing 9,000 miles of air travel

North of 60° and north of the Arctic Circle. With this tour, as with all our touring, The Citadel on Wheels gratefully acknowledges the support of Alberta Culture, the Canada Council, The Citadel Theatre and the corporate donors without whose aid this service would not be performed.

Drawing, painting workshop at Gallery

The Edmonton Art Gallery will offer a 10-day drawing and painting workshop for practising artists and advanced art students from July 4 - 15 this summer.

The workshop is organized to involve participants in an intense working environment with critical and supportive dialogue. The Gallery will provide studio space for the students but materials will be supplied by the participants themselves. A model will be available each day and Gallery facilities such as the Library, slide collection, film and video will also be made available to participants. Much of the workshop will involve discussions with guest artists on a variety of topics including Art Criticism, Photography and Painting, The Function of Painting, or The Use and Abuse of Art, Representation versus Abstraction, Nationalism and Regionalism in Art, and Questions on Formal Problems in Art.

The co-ordinator for the workshop is Ann Clarke Darrah who was on the teaching staff of the University of Alberta. Ms. Darrah was born in England and studied at The Slade School of Fine Art, University of London. After moving to Canada in 1968, she has taught at the Nova Scotia College of Art and Design and Banff School of Fine Art and was a sessional instructor in the Department of Art and Design at the University of Alberta until this year.

The fee for the full workshop is $125. A one week workshop from July 4 - 8 or 11 - 15 will be $70.00. Registration commences immediately and is on a first-come, first served basis, but preference will be given to those who will enroll for the full workshop. All re-registrations, in person or by mail, must be received no later than Friday, June 17.

Nurses will hold hypertension clinic

Hypertension is a silent killer that claims many of its victims before they are aware of their condition. The St. Albert Nurses Interest Group intend to take a stand against this deadly disease by holding a hypertension clinic here this fall.

This clinic will have the support of local doctors, and many nursing volunteers will be needed to carry out the work of the clinic. The clinic will hopefully last for at least two months, in order to be effective.

NEW EXECUTIVE

The St. Albert Nurses Interest Group has elected a new executive for the 1977-78 year. Members of the executive are: Co-ordinator, Marina Vettergreen; Treasurer, Cecile Bulva; Secretary, Rose Finvers; Public Relations Officer, Joyce Aboussafy; Community Services Liaison Officer, Ted Suess; Meeting and Social Convenor, Leocadia Williamson; Ward 11 representative North Central District, Margaret Romaine.

A dream come true for Willie Morasse

A trip to the Holy Land and Italy realized a lifelong dream for St. Albert resident Willie Morasse. Willie, who will be 84 in July, has become an experienced traveller of late with recent trips to the South Pacific, Australia, Ireland, England, Scotland and Wales. He also made a trip to Hawaii in January of 1975.

The trip to the Holy Land was an Easter Week Pilgrimage and left a great impression on Mr. Morasse. He hopes to return with his brother and sister-in-law in the near future.

While in Italy the group visited the cities of Rome, Sarrento, Capri, Naples, Pompei, Orvieto, Florence, Padua, Assisi, and Venice.

A visit to Vatican City, St. Peter's Basilica and other basilicas as well as an opportunity to view the Catacombs was the most memorable part of the Italian trip for Mr. Morasse.

The Holy Land trip was highlighted by a camel ride which the spry Mr. Morasse found no trouble at all with.

This summer Willie's brother Raoul is coming from California and the two have planned a trip to Willie's birthplace Mennominee, Michigan. From Mennominee they will travel to County Lothiniere to visit with relatives.

Willie's next ambition for a trip abroad is to travel to France, another country he has wanted to see for many years.

When not travelling Mr. Morasse is an active member of the St. Albert Senior Citizens Lodge.

Mr. Willie Morasse poses with his niece Isola O'Shea in front of the excavated ruins of Pompei. Mr. Morasse and his niece and cousin Rose Lepine recently returned from a trip to the Holy Land and Italy.

UNICEF conference to stress communi- cations

Every day of every year, thirty thousand children around the world die from lack of food and insufficient medical care. In Canada, where tons of food are daily disposed of as garbage, this fact may seem hard to comprehend. However, Canadians will get a chance for deeper understanding of the problem of UNICEF Canada's June conference being held in Hamilton, Ontario.

The conference will focus on the need for peoples of the world to familiarize themselves with the problems of others, and the theme for the event will be "Communications."

Canadians will find the hard facts of life in Third World countries appalling. In Sri Lanka, for instance, 90 percent of children's diseases are caused by polluted water supplies. Foods which we regard as essential to growing children, such as eggs, milk and butter are rare commodities to many children of this small country.

Among Sri Lanka's 12 million population, four million are children, of whom an estimated 600,000 do not go to school. Forty thousand of them are either physically or mentally handicapped.

There are brighter sides to life in Sri Lanka, however. Parent-child relationships are strong, and instances of child battering are nearly non-existent.

St. Albert wins both provincial drill team titles

AIR CADETS IN REVIEW
#533 SABRE SQD.
ST. ALBERT

By Cpl. Mike Parkin
As the headline indicates, the 533 has won both provincial drill team titles. Both the junior and senior drill teams, under the competent direction of Cpl. Bill Fecteau, met stiff competition but emerged the victors of their respective classes.

In the senior precision drill competition there were three drill teams entered, representing the three Alberta zones. Representing the south zone was the contingent from 538 Buffalo Squadron, from Calgary. The central zone was ably represented by 533 Sabre Squadron from St. Albert. 577 Grande Prairie Squadron represented the northern zone. There was a compulsory inspection, sizing, march-past and advance performed by every precision drill team. After that, the drill teams were "cut loose" to perform their precision drill routines. However, all of the precision drill movements performed had to be drawn from the drill instructor's bible, better known as CFP-201. Incidentally, the judging and marking was very stringent as 533 was attempting to gain its third senior drill team title, which we did.

The junior drill team competition was not quite as tight, because there was no representative from the southern zone. 124 Peace River Squadron was the northern zone representative and 533 Sabre Squadron, St. Albert represented the central zone. In the junior competition, the drill teams were marched on, sized, inspected and marked, then a march-past and advance was done. 533 came out on top in this competition also, winning our first provincial junior drill team title, after narrowly losing out in last year's competition. Congratulations to all members of the drill teams as well as their guiding light and mother Cpl. Bill Fecteau.

This upcoming weekend, June 10-12, sees the entire squadron travel to Camp Wright, for a work weekend. We will be painting and helping clean-up the camp, as well as taking part in some war-games, fishing ... and swimming???

CADET-PARENT BANQUET

The last big event of the year, the annual Parent-Cadet banquet was held at the St. Albert Inn on Wednesday, June 1. Approximately 275 cadets and parents attended.

This was also the squadron awards banquet, and many awards were presented. They were: Most Dedicated Cadet - Cpl. M. Dyer; Most Co-operative Cadet - Cpl. M. Parkin; Best First Year Achievement - LAW C. Seifert and LAW K. Devine; Best Senior Rifle - LAC T. Flamond; Outstanding Junior Bandsman - LAW L. Maybee; Outstanding Senior Bandsman - Sgt. K. Fecteau; Most Valuable Bandsman - Cpl. G. Maybee; Outstanding Jr. NCO - Sgt. J. Klein; Cadet of the Year - WO11 D. Webster. Congratulations to all of you!

WO 11 D. Webster who was awarded an International Exchange Visit was informed he will travel to England, and was presented with $100 to help with spending money, as well as a blazer and grey flannel slacks, on behalf of the St. Albert Lions Club.

It was a very good banquet and many thanks go to our squadron's officers for organizing this banquet.

Anyone planning on joining the squadron next year is asked to drop in to the St. Albert Community Hall this Thursday evening. We are doing documentation of new cadets this year before the start of the new training year, to simplify paperwork for next September. The new cadets will be sworn in next September, but all paperwork will be done beforehand.

WO. 11 Dwight Webster, of St. Albert R.C. [Air] C. Sqdn. 533, along with his parents proudly displays the Cadet of the Year award which he was awarded. WO. 11 Webster also has been awarded an international exchange visit to the United Kingdom where he will travel this summer.

VEHICLE LOADING

When you're loading the car, put heavier items in the truck and distribute the weight evenly to reduce vehicle swaying. Don't tie anything on the back of the vehicle. Bike, crib, etc. can go on car-top carrier. Make sure there isn't anything inside that will obstruct your vision. Remove loose objects from rear-window shelf - these can become flying missiles in a sudden stop. Remember, increased vehicle weight may require more air in your tires. Check owner's manual for information on maximum weights, tire pressures, etc....

City programs for singles

Men and women who may be picking up the pieces after a separation, divorce or death will be interested to know that a group is being formed in St. Albert which may be just what they need. Becoming single again after being married can be a traumatic experience and nearly everybody needs support of some kind from other people.

The St. Albert group met a few times and just talked. And then a program of activities, some of them involving children, was drawn up. It was varied and so far the most popular event has been a drop-in evening.

The next "item on the agenda" is a night at the movies on Saturday, June 11. Then there is a visit to the Rodeo on June 19 and a picnic in Lions Park on June 26.

On Wednesday, June 22, a general meeting will be held at 21 Leddy Avenue to evaluate the present program and plan for the future.

Phone the Community Services Department at 459-6601, ext. 79 for further information and for the telephone numbers of people to contact in the group. Copies of the program will be mailed out on request.

Loaded vehicle of trailer-in-tow

Driving when your car is heavily loaded or when towing a trailer means you need more space in which to stop or pass. Leave plenty of distance between you and the vehicle ahead, and signal turns well in advance to warn other drivers. When towing a trailer, be sure your rearview mirrors give you a clear view of the road behind. When travelling more slowly than the rest of the traffic, be courteous, pull over where possible and let faster vehicles pass.

Sun bathing

Start with five minutes on each side and gradually increase your exposure to the sun. It's surprising how fast most people can tan or burn. Remember, you can burn as badly on hazy days as on bright, sunny days.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Bible stories told in flowers at festival

On Saturday and Sunday, June 11 and 12, the St. Albert United Church will be the scene of a unique Flower Festival. The entrance, sanctuary and lower church hall will be bedecked with floral arrangements, created by the Flower Arranging Class sponsored by St. Albert Culture and Recreation Services.

The women of the flower arranging class and their teacher, Judy Shedden have moved away from the ordinary in their choice of theme for the festival. Many of the arrangements are interpretive of biblical verses. The 23rd Psalm, the story of the ark, and the feeding of the five thousand are just a few of the bible stories that will be told in flowers. Other arrangements, although not biblical in theme, are none the less beautiful, and illustrate a kind of floral geometry.

The festival's participants are also being assisted by the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild, who are giving advice, support and the loan of floral containers. The participants themselves are members of two classes, "Art of Flower Arranging" and "Technique of Flower Arranging."

The display will be open to public view on Saturday, from 1 - 4 p.m. and on Sunday, from 2 - 5 p.m.

THE CITY OF St. Albert NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Please be advised that the Council of the City of St. Albert proposes to pass Bylaw No. 27/77, being a bylaw to rezone Lot 6, Block 1, Plan 276 K.S. and Lot 7B, Block 1, Plan 3981 R.S., St. Albert, as shown on the attached map

The proposed Bylaw No. 27/77 may be examined between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays at the Office of the Municipal Secretary in the City Hall, St. Albert.

A public hearing on the proposed bylaw will be held in the Council Chambers, City Hall Annex, on Monday, June 20, 1977 at 7:45 p.m.

Written representations concerning the manner in which any provision of the proposed bylaw may affect him will be received by the Municipal Secretary until 12:00 noon on Friday, June 17, 1977. Persons wishing to make oral representation may do so by appearing at the public hearing.

Disco with a difference

An innocent by-stander wouldn't have known it was a disco with a difference. But it was. Most of the young people who attended do not, for some reason, attend a so-called "normal" school.

But there the difference ended. The music, the lights were there and the refreshments and the gyrations

- everything, in fact, that you'd find in your usual neighbourhood disco.

The event, sponsored by the Community Services Department, took place on Wednesday, June 1 and was attended by 30 - 40 young people and their parents and friends. Many of them were members of the newly-formed St. Albert Association for the Mentally Handicapped and the disco was the first social event planned specially for them. They enjoyed it thoroughly.

The next general meeting of the Association will be held on Thursday, June 9 in the Akinsdale Clubhouse, 36 Alpine Boulevard. It starts at 8 p.m. and anyone interested will be made very welcome.

If you can't get to the meeting but would like to know more about the Association, its aims and activities, phone Bill Collins, the president, at 458-0785 or Duncan Taylor, the P.R. man, at 459-4354.

Backpacking boom turns trails into freeways

Courtesy of National Geographic News

"Don't fall down. You'll get trampled to death," lament backpackers these days.

Popular footpaths are turning into backcountry freeways as more and more hikers seek to get away from it all on weekends and extended wilderness journeys. Some 20 million people have tried backpacking and the number grows every year, reports the National Geographic Society.

"We can no longer afford the luxury of sleeping on a bed of fresh-cut evergreen boughs, or of building up a roaring campfire after every mealtime," says a veteran outdoorsman. "Many of the cherished woodcrafter ways are passing into memory -- and the sooner the better, if wilderness is to survive."

Despite pleas for caution, wilderness areas in many parts of the country are showing wear and tear. "Carry out what you carry in," command signs at trailheads--yet litter still mars forests, mountain paths and meadows. The mess moves hiking clubs to organize clean-up excursions.

The rewards are still there, however, for those who love the wild backcountry, enter it humbly, take from it only memories, and leave behind only footprints.

Anyone in good health, leading a reasonably active life can hoist a nine-pound pack and embark on a modest weekend jaunt without much physical preparation.

But many a soft, unprepared city slicker has toppled to the ground before high noon on his first day out, beat a hasty retreat to the car, and finished his vacation beside a motel swimming pool.

A person of ordinary strength with a fairly heavy load may average two miles an hour on an easy trail and hike six or seven hours a day without pain, say seasoned backpackers.

To a novice, almost any prolonged climbing can seem burdensome. "The first thing that struck me about the Appalachian Trail was that it all seemed uphill," recalls one rookie.

HIKE BRINGS FREEDOM

Confirmed backpackers feel the rewards easily outweigh the discomforts. A 24 year old woman extols the virtue of solo hikes. "Travelling alone, I often see wild creatures that would flee from a chattering group," she explains. "On my back I carry my shelter and food enough for the length of my stay, and a sense of freedom fills me."

"Alone I can set my own pace, relax, and enjoy the beauty of nature without social distractions. Often I stop to thank all I see just for being there."

For beginning backpackers, however, a party of three is recommended as the smallest safe number, except on the easiest, most heavily travelled trails. A solo hiker, when injured, can only shout, wait, and hope.

A pair of sturdy, well broken in boots is essential to all hikers regardless of experience. But even good boots couldn't help the greenhorn who tried to ease the workload on his legs by tying a cord from each ankle to each wrist so his arms could help lift his feet.

On the first trail, he jerked one foot from under him, fell off the path and rolled into a prickly alder thicket. It took the rest of his group an hour to cut him loose.

By Dill Cole © National Geographic

Novice hikers often come up with innovations that complicate the art. One backpacker, feeling it was wasteful for legs to do all the work, tied a cord from each ankle to each wrist so his arms would help lift his feet. Shortly after he hit the first trail, he jerked one foot from under him and fell into an alder thicket, learning the painful lesson that a beginner should leave the frills behind and do what comes naturally.

St. Albert Baha'is have active spring

Baha'is in St. Albert have had a busy spring. The community held its sixth annual meeting to elect the Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of St. Albert and to celebrate the most holy of Baha'i festivals, the Feast of Ridvan, commemorating the public declaration by Baha'u'llah of His Divine Mission and the promulgation of His Message of hope for a new world order.

Six delegates to the National Convention, elected at the Northern Alberta Regional Convention held in St. Albert February 7 and 8, 1977, travelled to the National Convention in Saskatoon held April 27 to May 1. The convention was attended by 132 delegates from across Canada. Present from St. Albert were Paul Bujold, Glen Eyford and Ruth Eyford. The delegates elected Ruth Eyford as one of their co-chairmen for the four day convention called to elect the 30th National Spiritual Assembly of Baha'is of Canada and to consult on matters of importance to Baha'is in Canada and around the world. Elected from St. Albert to the nine-member National Assembly, which will govern the affairs of Baha'is in Canada for the coming year, were Glen and Ruth Eyford. Ruth Eyford was also elected as chairman of that body.

On May 23, the Baha'is commemorated the anniversary of the Declaration of the Bab, the Forerunner/Prophet-Martyr of the Baha'i Faith with invited guests John and Betty Putters and family from Devon and Doug Wilson, returning to the Yukon from a Baha'i conference in Auckland, New Zealand.

The hundredth anniversary of the release of Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i Faith, from the prison city of Akka, Palestine, where he spent nine years, was commemorated at the Feast of Light held at the home of Mahnaz and Mansoor Der-akhshan on June 8. Guests included John and Betty Putters and family from Devon, Nahed Rushdy from Barrhead, and Sandy Slobodian from Leduc.

The next two months foreshadows an equally busy period for St. Albert Baha'is who will be hosting a Northern Alberta Policy Conference on Teaching Native Peoples, co-inciding with the commemoration of the Anniversary of the Martyrdom of the Bab on July 9.

CHURCH OMITTED FROM HUGHES WILL

"It has now become apparent that our church will not benefit from the estate of the late Howard Hughes. As of this date no copy of his will has been located anywhere about our church property. Neither have we been mentioned in any of the several wills discovered elsewhere, not even in the one found in the Mormon church. I felt that this matter should be reported to the church at large because it is evident from the giving record of some of our members these past few weeks that they thought Mr. Hughes had left us a large sum. If they had been aware that such was not the case I'm sure they would have been more faithful in their giving.

"Well I guess it's back to the old plan of tithes and offerings for the support of God's work. This has worked well for us in the past so let's not abandon it now. But remember, brethren, our giving is to be weekly, not weekly."

Koch - Hebert wed at Seminary

St. Joseph's Seminary was the scene of a lovely spring wedding on May 21, when Colette Hebert and John Koch were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 3 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hebert of St. Albert, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Koch of St. Albert.

Father U. Duchesneau conducted a nuptial mass, during which the bride and groom both said special prayers and responses. The bride's brothers, Guy and Roger Hebert sang during the service.

The bride wore a lovely white dress of nylon, with sheer sleeves. The neckline was ruffled with flowered tulle, and the V necklined bodice was also flowered. Three tiers of ruffles adorned the gown's shoulders, and ruffles edged the hem. The back of the dress was gathered into a ruffled train, which converted into a bustle for dancing. A white headpiece and net veil completed the ensemble. She carried a bouquet of dark red long stemmed roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honour was Doreen Koch, sister of the groom, and the bride's sister, Cheryl Baril, was bridesmaid. The bridal attendants wore long, sleeveless gowns in a soft yellow with ruffled V necklines and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

The groom was attended by the best man, Henry Roy of St. Albert and by Merlin Koch, of Maple Creek, Saskatchewan. Ushers at the church included the bride's cousin, Danny Bouilly, and the groom's cousin, Tim Closs. The groom wore a white tux, while his attendants wore beige.

Andree Nobert, niece of the bride acted as flower girl, wearing a long yellow gown with ruffles at the bodice and hem. She carried a basket of spring flowers.

A nephew of the groom, Shawn Kinakin, of Edmonton, acted as ring bearer, wearing a white tux.

The mother of the bride Mrs. Rose Hebert, was attired in a long gown of pale peach with butterfly sleeves and appliqued with beads.

She wore a corsage of peach roses. Mrs. Frances Koch, mother of the groom wore a long sky-blue gown with sheer sleeves, appliqued with beads.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at the St. Albert Community Hall, where 220 guests gathered for a roast beef supper. The toast to the bride was made by the bride's brother, Roger Hebert, and the toast to the bridesmaids by Henry Roy. Later, dancing took place to the music of "Rendezvous" an Edmonton band.

The couple left on a week's honeymoon to Jasper, and returned to reside in St. Albert.

Tennis tournament draws record entry

The annual St. Albert Open Tennis Tournament was played in ideal weather conditions over the weekend and a record entry of 113 participated in 12 events.

Lou Desmarteaux of the Royal Glenora Club and presently the No. 2 ranked player in the province, was a double winner in the primary events as he won over Ted Davies of the Garneau in the Open Men Singles and teamed with Ken Oleschuk to defeat Tom Hamill and Tony Richard, also of the Royal Glenora, in Mens Doubles.

Sue Balfour of the Garneau needed three sets to defeat Pauline Gardner of the Mayfield in Ladies Singles while Betty Ontkane and Cynthia Sage of St. Albert defeated Judy Wood of St. Albert and Lyla Lucht of Garneau in three tie breaker sets to win the Ladies Doubles.

Sue Gilbertson of the Royal Glenora teamed with Maxim Jean Louis of the Mayfield to win the Mixed Doubles over Betty Ontkane and Dave Kirk of St. Albert.

In the 'C' Mens Singles event Jim Daniels of the Garneau won over Niall Lynch of Spruce Grove.

In secondary events Barb Chan of St. Albert won the Ladies Singles, Bonnie Childs of St. Albert and Elaine Rajotte of the Mayfield won Ladies Doubles, Joan Green and Dale Rurks of St. Albert won the Mixed Doubles, Malcolm Salisbury and Bob Batterham of St. Albert won the Mens Doubles and Malcolm Salisbury won the 'C' Mens Secondary Singles. The final of the Open Mens Secondary Singles has still to be played and will have Lloyd Scherer and Reiner Sattler of St. Albert trading shots.

All executive members of the St. Albert Tennis Club were involved in hosting the tournament and received many compliments from participants on the hospitality extended.

Saints bow to Busby in Midget play

Busby scored three runs in the seventh inning to break open a 3-3 tie with St. Albert Saints and went on to win 6-3 Monday night in a Norwest Midget baseball league game played in St. Albert. The loss was the second in a row for the Saints as they dropped a 13-12 game to Fort Saskatchewan last week.

Busby is undefeated in league play with four wins while the Saints have one win in three starts.

Saints led 3-0 going into the sixth inning but couldn't hold the lead as Busby stormed back to tie the score on a two-run triple by Daren Hapke. A two-run single by Larry Kuzminski won the game in the seventh as Saints pitcher Ken Young was tagged with the loss.

St. Albert will be in Stony Plain Monday night, June 13 and will be at home to Stony Plain on Wednesday.

The Saints also found time to play some tournament ball over the weekend as they participated in the seven team Edmonton Midget Baseball tournament. Saints did very well as they played in the final of the 'A' event losing 9-7 to Belvedere.

Saints led 7-4 after five innings of play but allowed Belvedere to come up with five runs in the seventh inning to take the win and the tournament. In other games St. Albert defeated Beacon Heights 11-1 in their first game and then beat Calder 9-3 in the semi-final.

Sailfish Swim Club season opens

St. Albert can rightly be proud of its summer swimming team, the Sailfish Swim Club. In its dozen or so years of operation, it has won the majority of meets in which it has competed. It has several times taken top honors at the Regional Swim Meet, and always has strong swimmers competing in the Provincial meet and in the summer games.

The Sailfish Swim team is made up of hard-working youngsters, aged six to 19. They train up to three hours a day throughout the summer at the Grandin pool, this training is under the supervision of capable, enthusiastic coaches. Meets are held on weekends during the summer, in towns far and near. Car pools are arranged for transportation to meets. Many families combine these meet dates with weekend camping expeditions. The first two meets this summer will be in St. Albert: the Rodeo Meet, a relay event, on June 12, 1 to 5 p.m., and the St. Albert Invitational on June 26.

If your son or daughter is interested in swimming, is looking for a worthwhile activity for the summer, and is willing to give the necessary time and energy, he or she is welcome to try out for the Swim Club. It's not too late now to register; simply come to the pool at 6 p.m., weekdays, and say you would like to be considered for the swim team. It is not necessary to already be a skilled swimmer. The skill develops through the training and instruction on the team.

Registration fee is $15., in addition, the swimmer is required to purchase a suit in the team colors.

For further information, please call Larry Heron, president, 458-2712, Carol Otto, vice-president, 459-4926, or Ann Kelly, secretary, 459-8297.

Seniors win first of season

St. Albert's senior baseball club defeated Blue Willow Jrs. 4-3 Thursday night in St. Albert for their first win in four starts in Sunburst Baseball League play.

St. Albert scored the winning run in the eighth inning when Rick Perrault led off with a double and scored on Steve Olson's single. Perrault was the winning pitcher as he came in to relieve Stan Kulka in the seventh inning.

Garry Greening had a home run for Blue Willow.

St. Albert played Blue Willow last night at Renfrew Park but no score was available at press time.

St. Albert will play the league leading Edmonton Cardinals Thursday night at South Side Industrial Park which is just south of Labbatt's Brewery on the Calgary Trail.

St. Albert will be at home June 14 when Fort Saskatchewan will make their first visit.

Top fuel dragsters were the main event at Speedway Park for last Saturday's Denny Andrews Canadian Nationals. Winner of the top event was Gentleman Hank Johnson taking home the $4000 purse by edging out Jim Bannard with a run of 6.13 of 235 miles per hour. Jerry 'The King' Ruth a favourite with the fans was edged out by Johnson in second round of the finals. Dale Adams of Calgary was just not good enough to beat Les Davenport also of Calgary who won the Pro Competition class. Second Low E.T. of the day was Terry Capp of Edmonton, 6.14.

Bantam Soccer Rockets move into first place

The Rockets on the strength of Ian Kay's play won all three games they played last week. Ian picked up 11 points and now leads all scorers. The Cannons also won both their games last week to remain close behind the Rockets in second place.

Monday night the Bullets lost a chance to gain ground on the leaders when they blew a 2-0 lead to the Cannons eventually losing 3-2.

The league is now at the half-way point of their spring season which sees each team play 19 games including three exhibition matches. The team finishing in first place after the last game June 29 will receive a team trophy.

In the fall the league will resume its schedule for a five week period. A round robin format will be played with the top two teams advancing to a final.

Trophies will be awarded to all members of both teams reaching this final match.

Trophies will be awarded to all members of both teams reaching this final match.

Interested spectators may view games Monday or Wednesday at Lorne Akins East or West beginning at 7:30.

Stock car racing is back at Westwind Oval again with the ITV Mark 10 NASCAR 100 feature race. Bryce Mann from Saskatoon, driving a red 1974 Nova won the 100 lap feature event in a rain delayed race. Next race date goes tonight. First Heat - [12 laps] 1. Warren Bergman, 2. Bryce Mann, 3. Ed Turgeon. Second Heat [12 laps] 1. Bryce Mann, 2. Del Cornelisen, 3. Len Vaselenak. All above mentioned drivers were driving super stock.

Playboys only undefeated team in Sturgeon fastball

Stony Plain Playboys are the only team without a loss in the 14-team Sturgeon Men's Fastball League.

The team defeated Spruce Grove Total Sounders 11-3 Monday night for their seventh win in a row.

Playboys however, are in second place as they are one point behind the surprising Devon Stingers who have won seven, lost two and tied one for 15 points.

Stony Plain Kings, after winning their first seven games have started to slip, and have now lost two in a row. Garden Valley Raiders surprised the Kings 5-4 in a rain-out game, and then Calahoo Chiefs defeated them 8-7 Monday night in Calahoo. Chiefs had five home runs in the game as Sneaky Berube, Greasegun Berube, Don Pompana, Art Stevenson and Gary Atcheson took round trippers off losing pitcher Jim Gossett. Art Stevenson went all the way for the win.

L.B.H. Builders got back on the winning side of things as they upset Spruce Grove K.C. 3-2 in extra innings. Buck Buccini scored the winning run in the eighth inning as he scampered home from third base on a passed ball. The Builders first run came on a walk to Wally Cooper and a triple by Gary Mix. Fred Bader was the winning pitcher while Adrian Brule took the loss.

St. Albert Juniors also picked up a win to stay even in the standings with L.B.H. as they scored a close 4-2 win over Onoway. Blaire Iseke went all the way on the mound.

In other Sturgeon Fastball play, Garden Valley Raiders blanked Alexander Braves 8-0, Spruce Grove Panthers blasted Enoch 17-7.

Tonight's action in St. Albert has the Juniors playing Calahoo Chiefs while the A's are in Alexander and L.B.H. meet the Playboys in Stony Plain.

Boating

The number of seats doesn't indicate a boat's capacity. Never overload a boat and keep the weight balanced. Standing up, changing positions, or making sharp turns can cause a tragedy. The law requires that an approved life jacket or life-saving cushion be provided for each person aboard. Non-swimmers and children should wear approved lifejackets at all times and other boaters should wear them when water conditions warrant. Check the marine-weather forecast before taking a boat out on open water and keep an alert lookout for signs of an impending storm. Storms and rough waters go together. Head for shore immediately at the first sign of foul weather.

Mosquito league playoffs underway; Beavers start next week

As Told by Uncle Rick

It's really hard to believe - but houseleague baseball in St. Albert is about to come to a screeching halt. Playoff round-robin games are already underway in the mosquito division. Beaver division action in regular season play ends tonight with the bantams not too far behind. Like any other sport, playoffs mean the start of a new season, almost ... and upsets are in the works.

We heartily thank division chairman, Vic Hogan, for the following information regarding the final standings which determined the playoff positions in the mosquito league:

MOSQUITO LEAGUE

DIVISION A	W	L	T	P
Sturgeon Meats	8	2	0	16
Safeway Seals	7	3	0	14
NuWest Homers	5	3	2	12
Belmont Bombers	6	4	0	12

DIVISION B	W	L	T	P
Gazette Cards	5	3	1	11
Buxton Realty	4	4	1	9
LP Red Rooster	3	4	1	7
Melton M-M's	2	6	1	5
Graham Giants	1	3	3	5
Springer Angels	1	7	1	3

In reference to the above, there were some real surprises this past week, as mosquito nines jockeyed for positions before the play-down deadline.

The biggest upset featured the Buxton Realty upstarts. They managed to pen up the Safeway Seals 9-7 in a close makeup mix. The Nu-West Homers cashed a 25-19 check at the expense of the Belmont Credit Union Bombers. The Bombers were grounded 13-9 by the Gazette Cards in another puzzler. In a 16-16 slugfest, the Lacombe Park Red Roosters and the Springer Angels ended up on the same perch. Coach Collin Hefford's Sturgeon Meat Merchants cut and wrapped the Graham Giants into neat 14-10 pieces. Buxton "barely" outslid Melton's Mighty Mites 18-17 in another makeup game.

The Mosquito B division has had their first round of games - all played last Monday - and settled in record time.

The Lacombe Park Red Roosters dealt the Gazette Cards a 21-17 setback. Neil Goosen and his Springer Angels spread their wings over Buxton Realty long enough to trim them 18-15. A transportation mixup cost the Graham Wafer Giants a 6-0 forfeit to the Melton Mighty-Mites when the Giants were unable to field a full team at the specified time. It was a tough loss for Keith Phillip's "big guys" as they outscored the "Mites" 32-25 for an exhibition victory later.

All mosquito playoff standings will appear in this column next week.

BEAVER DIVISION

	W	L	P
Stur. Sod-Giants ...	10	0	20
Roughnecks	6	6	12
Trailer Kings	6	3	12
Sportshop Cubs ...	5	3	10
Grandin Mets	3	5	10
NuWest Angels ...	3	6	6
The Bucket	3	7	6
Big Lake Sod Squad	1	7	2

We ask the patience of all beaver division coaches in checking over the current standings. If you find anything out of order, please let us know. In most cases, we have received nothing but co-operation from beaver coaches. There is the odd time when we've had to "dig" for a score.

As the old saying goes, "we're down to where the hair is short" in beaver division play. Tonight is the final round of play before the playoffs begin, hopefully, next week.

It's been a rare night when all beaver teams were able to play four games together. Such was the case last Monday.

The Sturgeon Sod-Giants, still unbeaten, roll merrily along content to win the close one. Although they swept out the Grandin Shopping Centre Mets 8-6, Coach Al Krouse's nine gave the #1 team some concern. (In a make-up affair last Friday, however, the same Sod-Giants rolled rough-shod over the same Grandin Mets 20-6). The Trailer Kings, getting stronger weekly, capped the Crown Well-Drilling Roughnecks 11-4. On the same St. Albert High complex, Pat Lockert's Bucket brigade boxed the Nu-West Angels 18-13. Clipping down the Big Lake Sod-Squad 24-17, the Sportshop Cubs made it two wins in a row. The Cubs, also, clawed the Roughnecks in a make-up tangle 13-11.

WATCH IT!

We have just discovered the Big Lake Sod-Squad won their first tiff of the season last week when they ground the Nu-West Angels under 14-11 behind the sharp pitching and batting of Zack Wheatley. Pardon the oversight.

BANTAM DIVISION

	W	L	T	P
Bermont Broncos	7	1	1	15
Trailer Kings	5	4	0	10
Link Blue Jays	4	5	1	9
Penn. Blasters	2	8	0	4

Can any bantam division team stop the runaway Bermont Broncos? This question should be answered during the next two weeks.

Playoffs in bantam division begin June 21 with the first place team pitted against the third place team while the runner-up squad takes on the fourth place contender the same night.

The Bermont league-leaders chocked up their third shutout of the season, blanking the Link Hardware Blue Jays 8-0 on Flagstone field. On the same Tuesday Neil's Trailer Kings, on the strength of Doug Rechlo's two hitter, pulled the fuse on Pennington's Blasters 17-7.

Thursday's lone conflict proved to be an upset 6-5 victory for the Blue Jays over the Trailer Kings. The Broncos and the Blasters called their scheduled meeting off due to threatening skies.

Neil's travelling Trailer Kings took to the road last Sunday for a doubleheader against the Camrose bantams. Although losing 5-2 in the first, and 16-13 in the second, the St. Albert gang proved they were no easy pushovers. Camrose will visit St. Albert the last part of this month, according to Dave Reiniger, general manager.

MIDGET DIVISION

It was a gala weekend for the St. Albert Midgets. They almost brought back the big midget trophy from the Greater Edmonton Midget baseball get-together held at Rosslyn complex Saturday and Sunday. According to coaches Ben Tooth and Frank Galbraith it was "won and lost" all in one game Sunday. Behind the hurling of Kenny Young, the Willowbrook Saints of St. Albert nailed Beacon Heights 10-1. Tim Shipanoff hurled a 9-3 win for the "Saints" in the second game advancing them to the finals of the "A"

The locals got off to a rousing start against the tourney favorite, Belvedere, leading 6-0 with Colin Tooth on the mound. A miscue at shortstop contributed to the tough Belvedere comeback. Final score when the dust had cleared away - was 9-7 for the Edmonton favorites.

In Norwest Midget league play, the St. Albert Willowbrook Saints were upset 13-12 at Fort Saskatchewan last Wednesday night. "It was one we never should have lost," said Coach Tooth with a shake of his head, "we were just too sure of ourselves."

Last Monday night the Saints met the undefeated Busby midgets in a league game at Mission field. The score was tied 3-3 going into the seventh stanza when Busby's big bats began to ring. Three runs came across the plate for the visitor's 6-3 victory. St. Albert travels to Busby Sunday afternoon for a return engagement and possible revenge.

ON CABLE S TONIGHT

Tonight is "catch-up" night. We've got some odd footage of games of the past month that we've been unable to show. Last week, for example, we missed showing the midget game between Spruce Grove and St. Albert so we'll see a part of that. The bantam division will be represented with action from a recent Bronco-Trailer King game. So ... join us on the Sport Scene at nine p.m. tonight.

PATS ON THE BACK TO ...

Bert Labuick's Crown Well Drilling Roughnecks for their excellent effort in raffle ticket sales. We don't have the official tally yet, but it appears this group has sold over 90 books. They expect to receive their team jackets very shortly as a result of their efforts. Good going, guys Geordie Filipchuk of Neil's Trailer Kings beaver squad, for his 15 strike-outs registered against the Roughnecks last Monday. Coach Norm Spencer indicated that Geordie had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning.

KLARWHEEN

called us the other day to remind us to mention the big dance night her organization is sponsoring on June 24 at the St. Albert Community Hall. Music by Steve Anthony ... dancing, prizes and refreshments ... from nine 'til one. Admission - $8 per couple.

Two teams from St. Albert - the Belmont Credit Union Bombers mosquito outfit and Neil's Trailer Kings bantams will take part in the Greater Edmonton tournament this weekend at the Rosslyn Community League baseball complex. The Bombers are managed by Vic Hogan and coached by Russ Tillapaugh and Lorne Ross. The Trailer Kings have Dave Reiniger as head coach and Art Balog as chief assistant. Games will be played both Saturday and Sunday.

This all goes to show that "Diamonds are a boys best friend" particularly, in sunny weather.

SWIM LESSONS

Swim lesson registrations began at the pool on Monday, May 30. The latest report from the pool is that there are still a few vacancies in all classifications for the remaining sessions to be held throughout the summer.

The sessions commence July 4 and run for a two week period whereby the registrant attends class every day. The fee is $5 for the junior levels, $9 for the Bronze Medallion and $11 for the award of merit.

If you wish to take advantage of swim lessons this summer, you should register at the pool anytime between 1 and 6:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SWIM PASSES

A new system has been devised for those wishing to purchase season swim passes. So that better service may be given, swim passes are available at the pool only between 1 and 6:45 p.m. daily. The cost of the passes for residents are: $40 for a family pass; $16 for an adult pass; $13.50 for a student pass and $9.50 for children up to the age of 12 years. The non-resident will pay $50 for a family, $20 for an adult, $16.50 for a student and $11 for a child's pass.

SUMMER BROCHUERS

Our summer brochures outlining our playground and daycare programs as well as tennis lessons for the remainder of the summer will be delivered to all homes in St. Albert this week. It is bright green in color so keep an eye on your mail box this week.

TENNIS CLUB

Novelty Doubles on Wednesday, June 8, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Barbecue Saturday, June 11. Phone Barb Chan at 458-0263 for further information.

SPINNERS

Spinners of St. Albert are invited to come out for a fun day of spinning on Wednesday, June 18 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. It will be held at the Arts and Crafts building behind Vital Grandin School on Sunset Blvd. No instruction will be given, therefore no fee is charged. Spinners are asked to take along their own wool and tease cards. Carding machines and wheels will be available. It is suggested that you take along a lunch.

For any further information please contact Mrs. Bogaert at 458-1473.

PHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP

Last Sunday proved to be an excellent day for an excellent photography workshop with participants taking advantage of the fine weather and good subjects selected by the instructor. Participants are reminded that there will be a follow-up viewing session some evening in July.

It is hoped that another workshop of this nature can be held later in the summer. If interested, watch this space for further announcements.

SAILFISH SWIM CLUB

Registration forms will be available at the Grosvenor Park pool until June 10 for persons wishing to join the Sailfish Swim Club. The club offers instruction, training and competition for boys and girls aged 6 - 19. The fee is $15. The registration forms are to be returned to Mr. Fred Pass, 88 Mission Avenue, St. Albert.

SUMMER GYMNASTICS PROGRAM

A summer gymnastics program for girls six years of age and older will be held this summer. Two sessions will be held: the first from July 4 to 28 and the second from August 2 to 25. In each session there will be two 1 1/2 hour daytime classes per week, either a Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday. There will be classes for beginners, intermediates and advanced in all age groups.

Registrations for these sessions will be held at the Grandin Clubhouse, Thursday, June 9, 6:30 - 8 p.m. and Saturday, June 11, 10:30 - 12 noon. The fee will be $25 per session. Further information may be obtained from Cynthia Bujold at 459-7680.

Ryan Oddleifson outleaps all elementary jumpers

Ryan Oddleifson, an 11 year old, grade 6 student, jumped 4' 6" (1.37m) on Saturday at Vital Grandin's Elementary High Jump Meet to outleap all others including the jumpers in the 12 years and over category.

Ninety grade 4, 5 and 6 students representing all elementary schools in St. Albert, participated in the competition and it was obvious that St. Albert is full of potential track and field stars.

Schools in St. Albert will be holding their track and field meets soon and some have already had theirs. The top grade 4, 5 and 6 athletes all come together on Monday, June 20 at Sir George Simpson field to compete in the ATA Division II Track Meet for individual and school awards. The list of first to third place finishers in the High Jump Meet were:

9 & UNDER GIRLS

1. Cheryl Lozinski 3'1" .94m; 2. Jackie Peterson 3'1" .94m; 3. Monique Mondoux 3'1" .94m.

9 & UNDER BOYS

1. Mark Johnstone 3'7" 1.09 m; 2. Andrew Barnett 3'6" 1.07m; 3. Mark Skakun 3'5" 1.04m.

Piranhas put bite on Steelers, win 19-12

The Hercules Girls Fastball had a good week with some co-operation from the weatherman. In the Squirrels division, on June 2, the Ball Busters won over the Blue Jays behind the pitching of Corrine Alain and Peggy Verhulst. The St. Albert Inn Red Creamers won their game with the Golden Hawks. The winning pitchers were Janice Varner and Sheryl Findlater.

The junior girls division saw the Mohawk Marvels registering their second win by defeating the Blue Bombers. Lisa Dobko, Karen Root and Kathy Knight shared the pitching honors for the Marvels.

In the June 2 senior girls game, the Pro Western Piranhas won 19-12 over A & H Steelers. Frances Vettergreen and Karyn Gagnon carried the pitching duties for the Piranhas. The Steelers pitchers were Andrea Riddell, Brenda Cockwill and Laurie Root. Home runs in the game were hit by Karyn Gagnon, Sandra Dolinsky and Joanne Chelkowski of the Pro Western team.

The St. Albert Sportshop is again sponsoring the Angels in the Sturgeon league. The girls are doing well in the league under the capable coaching of Frank Vettergreen. So far, they have won five games and lost only one. The Angels are anxiously looking forward to the play-offs on June 17, 18 and 19 to be played at Villeneuve and Morinville. After that the girls are eyeing the provincial playdowns sometime in July and are working hard for some laurels there.

36 GRANDIN SHOPPERS PARK

Fish & Game Assoc. wins award

Reading through a copy of the magazine, 'Western Canada Outdoors,' it was noticed that the local Fish and Game Association were recipients of the 'Smork-Ook' travelling award.

The Smork-Ook award is symbolic of friendship among associations and was awarded to St. Albert by the Dunvegan Association - who were the first recipients last year.

The award, originated by Sam Smolyk and Paul Morck at the Red Deer Convention in 1975, is a large model of a whitefish fish hook which according to legend hooked a mermaid in the Peace River in 1976.

The St. Albert club is now obligated to formally present the award to another Alberta Fish and Game Association.

Zone track meet set for summer games

Once again the Alberta Summer Games are fast approaching. The Games are sponsored by the Province of Alberta and attract over 25,000 participants in Zone competitions with 2,000 finalists competing in Red Deer September 2-5.

The province is divided into eight zones for the purposes of Zone playoffs. Zone 5 consists of Counties

7, 11, 12, 20, 25, 28 and 31, Municipal Districts No. 90, 92 and Improvement Districts 12, 14 and 15.

Track and Field is one of 24 sports. It is open to boys and girls up to 16 years of age as of January 1, 1977.

The Track and Field Zone 5 meet has been set for Edmonton on July 9, 1977. From this meet will be selected 15 boys and 15 girls to represent Zone 5 in Track and Field at Red Deer. The deadline for entries to the July 9 meet is July 4.

Anyone wishing more information should contact their local recreation department or write Bruce Lange, Box 836, Drayton Valley, phone: 542-4632 during office hours.

Physically disabled to hold games in Edmonton

At a recent news conference the Canadian Wheelchair, Amputee and Blind Sports Associations announced that they will be holding a joint competition under the name of Canadian games for the physically disabled, August 20-28, 1977.

The games will include the 9th National Wheelchair Games, and the 2nd National Games for Amputee and Blind athletes. The organizing committee for the games is chaired by Dr. Herb McLachlin, dean of the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation at the University of Alberta. The competitions will be held at the University of Alberta, physical education complex and the athletes will be housed in the residences on campus. The organizing committee expects approximately 450 participants to take part.

The Games committee announced that the Games logo, will be a descriptive visual display of a wheelchair, amputee and blind athlete joined together.

The committee also announced that the Hon. Premier Peter Lougheed has agreed to be the honorary chairman for the Canadian Games for the physically disabled.

In 1968 the first national wheelchair games were held in Edmonton but this is only the second time that a host city has agreed to organize three sets of games at one time. Last year the Games were held in Cambridge, Ontario.

There will be track and field and swimming events for all three groups.

No competition for soccer teams

The three St. Albert Representative soccer teams just keep on winning. The Edmonton Minor Soccer League just is not supplying the competition necessary to make for exciting matches when they meet the St. Albert squads.

The teams had a very easy time surviving the second round of the straight knockout cup action.

The Sportshop mites rang up yet another two shutouts in advancing to the third round.

Helmut's Masonry bantams took their two-game series against Beverly winning 10-0 and 7-3.

Last week's league action saw both mites and peewees winning their games handily. In two league games last week the bantams defeated Rio Terrace 6-1 and Beverly 8-1.

Rio Terrace scored first which seems to bring the St. Albert boys to life. A balanced effort resulted in all six St. Albert goals going to different individuals. Superb goaltending by the Rio Terrace goalie prevented the score from going much higher than it did.

Energy conservation for housing

A Kitchener construction firm, Energy Saving Homes Ltd., expects to complete model homes by June of this year which will incorporate several energy conserving features designed to cut energy consumption in half. The model homes are the first stage of a 417 unit "energy saving home community," the first of its kind in North America.

All homes will be built on the same basis making them easily adaptable to 'soft energy sources' such as wind and solar generators.

Some of the features: triple sealed windows; 2 x 6 exterior framing to permit thicker insulation; 12 inches of ceiling insulation-R40; windows on sunny side and solid walls on windward side; master controlled thermostat; cut-off switch for all overhead lighting located at front door; heat pumps; energy saving heat reflector drapes.

These unique homes will be priced at the $46,900 range for single family units.

Swimming

Never swim alone, or when overtired, overheated or just after eating. Know the water - temperature, current, hidden rocks, etc. Keep a constant eye on children, even in a wading pool, because kids love the water, but it makes them reckless. Air mattresses and other flotation toys can get them into trouble. Use them with great caution. Set a good example by being water-safety conscious whenever you're near a body of water, no matter how small.

Sturgeon Gazette

Another great 'bash' for Sturgeon Seniors at Red Barn

Six hundred and fifty senior citizens crammed into the Red Barn, Lily Lake June 1 for the sixth annual Sturgeon Seniors Barbecue and Dance.

This was down on last year's stupendous attendance of 1,000, but contingents of seniors from Boyle, Edmonton and Stony Plain were missing from this year's "bash."

After the seniors had feasted on the steaks and salads in the unique setting of Walter Jerram's and Bill Cochrane's Red Barn, they danced till 11 p.m.

A spokesman for Sturgeon Regional Recreation had a compliment for Mr. Jerram and Mr. Cochrane, for the way they hired out the Barn. "Walter and Bill didn't charge a cent which was super. They've done this the second year in a row."

The majority of the seniors were from the Sturgeon area, but some were from the Fort Saskatchewan Seniors House Club for this year's "do."

Before the dancing got underway there was some excellent entertainment from local talent.

There were "Lebanese" belly dancers from Bon Accord and Morinville in the shapely, alluring forms of Donna Lemke and Brenda Wright.

There were superb examples of Ukrainian folk dancing from the Coronado Ukrainian dancers, particularly from instructors John Eshenko and Terry Mucha.

There were karate demonstrations from the Namao Karate Club and from karate instructor Ray Williams.

The Satellites from Villeneuve provided music to dance to and were accompanied by singers Muriel Krauskopf of Legal and George Soetaert from Villeneuve.

Finally five people were lucky enough to share $50 if their entry tickets to the barbecue had the right numbers.

Sturgeon Regional Rec. Dept.

THANK YOU!

The sixth annual Sturgeon Senior Citizen Barbecue turned out to be a huge success due to the generosity of Bill Cochrane and Walter Jerram who donated their time and energy for this occasion. I would like to say thanks to all the good people who donated their time and energy for this occasion; to the men who barbecued the steak; Larry Kirkpatrick, Laurent Coulombe, Clayton Crozier, Terras Ferbey, Herman Kieser, Ken Krystofiak, Howard Lamb, Gary McClenaghan, Don Plantinga, Guy St. Germain, Chris Vranas, Gary Harwardt, Mark Melnychuk; to the ladies who worked in the kitchen and at the salad tables: Janet Sherstabetoff, Annie Chipchar, Dorothy Erdman, Jean Smok, Ann Kieser, Eva Coulombe, Lorraine Ferguson, Lena Keith, Fern Melnychuk, Florence Vranas; to the ladies who served the coffee and tea: Janice Lamb, Marilyn Plantinga, Sylvia Carruthers, Tannis Ruck, Jean Crozier, Penny Smok; to the people in charge of coat check: Marilyn Fizer and Leonard Keith, to the two young men in charge of parking Donald Kieser and Denis Kieser and to Karma McClenaghan who helped at the door with the tickets. I would also like to say thank you to the following people who worked for five hours the next day cleaning up: Janice Lamb, Ann Kieser, Florence Vranas, Lena Keith, Carol Unrau, Janet Sherstabetoff, Tannis Ruck, Wendy Boon, Larry Kirkpatrick and Leonard Keith. To the master of ceremonies, Larry Kirkpatrick, the entertainers for the June 1st barbecue put on a very good show they were: The Coronado Ukrainian Dancers, the two Lebanese dancers, Brenda Wright and Donna Lemke, the Ukrainian dance instructors, Terry Mucha and John Eshenko, the Namao Karate Club demonstration.

Thank you to the Villeneuve "Satellite" band who played excellent music, the singers, Muriel Krauskopf and George Soetaert. Last but not least to the Sturgeon Regional Recreation staff who have helped me organize the barbecue for the past three months, their support and encouragement made this event a success. Thank you, Larry Kirkpatrick, Jim Newman, Janet Sherstabetoff, Janice Lamb, Marilyn Plantinga and Tannis Ruck.

By Charlotte St. Germain

PRIMITIVE POTTERY AND FIRING

A primitive pottery and firing session is being planned for July and/or August. If you are interested or want further information, please contact the Sturgeon Regional Recreation office at 939-4317.

HIRE A STUDENT

The Morinville Hire A Student office, located in the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Building will be open Monday thru Friday from 3:30 - 5:30 p.m. Office Manager Sherry Gibeault will assist students in locating summer employment, and will help employers locate summer help. For further information contact Sherry at 939-4318.

STURGEON FURTHER

On behalf of the staff at Sturgeon Regional Recreation and all the Senior Citizen Clubs, congratulations is extended Charlotte St. Germain, for a job well done at the recent Senior Citizens Barbecue.

Frontier Daze has flourished since 1965

As Frontier Daze is rapidly approaching, it is an appropriate time to review some of its background. Certainly, there are very few similarities between the first annual fair which was held in Morinville in 1965 and the Frontier Daze as it is known today.

In 1965 there were no facilities. The only event was a carnival queen contest. By 1970, International Foods and the Demolition Derby had been introduced. That year, members of Frontier Daze became a recognized society. In 1971 the first beer gardens was held and in 1972 an arts and crafts display. Since then many new departments have been added. These include a parade, gymkhana, entertainment, canoe races and street breakfast, just to mention a few. This is in addition to the midway, concessions, and games.

The objective of the Frontier Daze Association has always been to provide recreational facilities for residents of Morinville and district. The more successful Frontier Daze is, the more the community as a whole benefits.

The annual fair is traditionally held on the weekend closest to the St. Jean-Baptiste Feast Day, June 24, so will be on June 25 and 26 this year.

Agricultural research urged

The Agricultural Institute of Canada recently made a presentation to the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons calling for a greater emphasis on research and development. They pointed out that Canada is trailing behind other developed nations in the amount of GNP (1.2%) spent on research.

The inevitable result, says the institute, will be a shortage of highly trained manpower in the agricultural and food industries.

The present $100 million research budget should be increased rather than decreased.

SEPTEMBER 6 the doors will open on the $5 1/2 million Namao Composite High School now under construction near Namao. The west end of the school is for the fine arts and gym complex, the east end for the vocational complex and the central part is for academic studies. Six hundred and fifty students have been registered at the school to date; and it has a capacity for 765.

Many visitors to Calahoo W.I.

By Liz McLeod

The 180th meeting of Calahoo Women's Institute was held in Mr. and Mrs. Pete McLeod's home on Tuesday, May 24 at 8:30 p.m. with 15 members and four visitors present.

It was a pleasure to have a former member, Mrs. Madeline Brown now of St. Albert in our midst. Mrs. Stella Gamble, Mrs. R. Edith Carter and Mrs. A. Lucy Baker of Spruce Grove W.I. attended as well.

To acquaint the vice president with a president's duties, Mrs. McLeod asked Mrs. F. Isabell Wheatley to conduct this meeting. Isabell is to be commended on the fine job she did.

At this point the hostess wishes to thank Emelia Schmermund and Mary Dalheim for their early arrival to assist in preparations.

Because the raising of funds for the provincial office is an on-going thing, Mary Dalheim suggested that Calahoo W.I. donate something to be raffled at next year's convention, so all the groups in Alberta can participate by selling tickets.

It was then moved and accepted, that we purchase the finished afghan, made by Addie Thatcher and take it to the convention in Olds, May 30 - June 2.

Then since Duffield W.I. donated their Hills of Hope History Book to be placed in the provincial office, we in Calahoo W.I. decided to donate our "Calahoo Trails" history book.

The resolutions to be voted upon at convention were discussed to assist delegate Mary Dalheim, Isabell Wheatley and Laura Campbell will also go to Olds from this group.

Our delegate to Duffield, Isabell Wheatley, gave her report on the constituency conference.

The hostess then asked Mrs. K. Mary Dalheim to address the group. She spoke of helping the blind by donating your eyes to the eye bank.

The roll call, an exchange of plants, was answered by most of the members with the rest paying the fine.

The door prize was brought by Addie Thatcher and won by Isabell Wheatley.

The meeting was then adjourned to be followed by the lunch. A birthday cake was set before Mary Dalheim and Isabell Wheatley and between the two, all the candles were blown out.

Fred Brown, Myles Kerr, Tom Campbell, John Thatcher, Vic Albrecht kept Pete McLeod company and certainly enjoyed their visit also.

The June 28th meeting of Calahoo W.I. will be held at Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Berry's home. Visitors to this meeting will be the Villeneuve Parish ladies.

FOOTNOTE: There was jubilation among the Calahoo WI members upon learning that the history book, "Calahoo Trails" has won honorable mention out of 18 entries sent in to Alberta Culture for judging recently. Chaps and Chinook - a two volume history from Springbank area won the prize. Honorable mention was like the icing on the cake as far as we were concerned.

The Morinville Frontier Daze crest is being used as an appropriate illustration for this year's theme "A Salute to Our Heritage." Not only will it appear on the front of programs, but it will be used on T-shirts as well. Lil Boddez, Bonnie Parchman, and Gary Smith are hard at work getting these T-shirts ready. They will come in all sizes and colors and will be sold at the souvenir booth during Frontier Daze this June 25 and 26.

Legal Locals

By Bonnie Pelletier

On Friday, May 27, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McKinnon became the proud parents of a baby girl. Elizabeth was 6 lbs. 10 1/2 ozs. and born at the Sturgeon General Hospital in St. Albert.

The pre-school orientation program has changed the dates to June 22, 23 and 24 for students starting school next year.

On May 30, Mrs. Rachelle Pelletier journeyed to Cap de Madeleine, Quebec where her sister Lilliane was married to Patrick Boissonnault. Her father Pierre Brisson, brother Paul Brisson and Laurier Brisson and Aunt Alex LaBelle also attended the beautiful wedding. They all enjoyed the scenery and toured the lovely province at the same time. They found how different some customs and traditions are compared to ours; and very interesting. Lilliane and Patrick will be visiting Legal shortly.

School roof repairs approved

A recognition of need from the School Buildings Board will result in a roof repair job for the Legal School.

Under the Building Quality Restoration Program, the provincial government will help pay the cost of repairs to three areas of the roof of the 27 year old building. Under the restoration program, the government will contribute $11,133 for the repair of the roof.

Manufacturers tie Rochester 6-6

The Morinville Manufacturers were hoping for a win at Rochester, when they met the Rochester team. The Manufacturers had to settle for a tie, 6-6.

The Manufacturers then came back home the following only to be defeated by the Vimy Blues by the score of 2-1.

The June 1 game in which they were to play the Barrhead Broncos, was cancelled due to rain. The game has been rescheduled for June 30 in Barrhead.

Not all games were rained out. Especially the Legal, Vimy game where the Legal Pontiacs were defeated by the score of 10-2. Vimy executed a number of good plays which they used to overcome the Legal Pontiacs. Some good hitting was presented by both teams. Pete Provincial and teammate Darcy Baert were the only two to attain home runs in the entire game.

The Morinville Manufacturers next home game is on June 8. Game time is 7:15 p.m. So come out and cheer on the Manufacturers to a successful game.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds—for less

This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot-pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard—TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleaves are susceptible: TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control

TORDON 202C is a formulation containing

Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides; Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!

TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pail?... $37.40—and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.60. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and, upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container—in a special carry-case.

GOODTIMERS HOLD WIND-UP BANQUET

Saturday evening the Morinville Goodtimers held their wind-up banquet in the Legion Hall, where they were reported to be very pleased with the new barbecue facilities. The awards were many and varied, to cover the multitude of heroic deeds accomplished throughout the past season, the value of those deeds increasing as the night proceeded, in inverse proportions to the level of the refreshments. Maurice Touchette stepped down as club manager and Ken Lissack will take over for next season.

Morinville Kindergarten Local Advisory Committee is holding a general meeting, tonight, June 8 at 8 p.m. in the Centre. Members from the staff of Notre Dame school will be on hand to discuss the grade one program. All parents of children who will be starting grade one in September are invited, even if the child has not attended kindergarten this year. Children must be six years old by the end of February, 1978.

Sincere sympathies are extended to the family of Marguerite Sheehan who passed away on Sunday, June 1, 1977.

The home built ferris wheel of Gibbons

By Margarette J. Atkinson
In the then small town of Gibbons lived a family, whose father ran the only lumber yard, Gibbons ever had. There were four boys and two girls.

Mr. Ward Yeo, was a very hard working and kind man. He also ran the "Pool" elevator at Gibbons. Mrs. Yeo, was a considerate type of person and always welcomed, her children's friends in a kindly manner.

There were lots of lovely tall trees around their backyard. And always a place to play for their children.

The elder boys decided on building a type of "ferris wheel". A design was decided on. There would be a very strongly built square frame. A very strong metal rod was set at the top, which ran through the centre of two very long thick boards. Onto each end of the two thick boards were placed wooden seats, with backs and a wooden bar on hinges, which swung across the front part of the seats. It latched, firmly into place, to become a very secure, hand-rail.

The two swivel seats, one at each end, were set between the two heavy boards, which when given a push, went away up and over the metal bar, at the top of the main frame.

As one seat was in mid-air, above the main frame, the other seat was right underneath. It was set high enough so no one's feet touched the ground.

All of the planning and effort must have been very hard work and it took great initiative on the part of Ward Yeo and his sons, Earl,

Marvin and Eddie.

They certainly built a "first" when they built that ferris wheel at Gibbons. What a wonderful thrill it was to be given a ride on it.

Young people and children mingled alike in those days. Some of those lads pushed that ferris wheel patiently for hours. Giving everyone "turns," for a ride. Three sat comfortably in each seat. As the lower seat was emptied, it was held firmly and others seated. Then the other seat would be lowered, emptied then re-loaded again by eager youths, girls and children.

That "ferris wheel" invented and built by the Yeo family will long be remembered by all of us, who had the privilege of a ride on it.

Gibbons News

By Karen Hogg

Mrs. Irene Van Noord is holidaying right now in Holland and Germany, visiting her many relatives and friends. I am sure she will have a wonderful time.

Last Wednesday night was a very exciting one for our girl guides of Gibbons. It was presentation night open to the public for girls being awarded the all around Cord and the Canada Cord. It was a candlelight ceremony, with guides going up to light the candles.

Mrs. Jones, district commissioner awarded Delilah Wingfield, Annette Bibaud and Jackie Pyska with their all around cords and pins. The three girls had worked very hard to be able to receive their cords on this evening.

Mrs. Fraser, camp advisor of the area and who started up guiding 25 years ago was asked to present the five guides with their Canada Cords and pins. Each girl was awarded their cords and each had a special guest, invited by the girls to give a special talk about them.

Tanya Smith was awarded her cord and called upon

Mrs. Charlotte McLean to give a little talk about her. Lori Briggs was awarded her cord and called upon Mrs. June Agar to also give a little speech. Lynn Morin received her cord and called upon Mrs. Pat Briggs to speak. Kim Mabbutt was presented with her cord and called upon Mrs. Eileen Sprague. Joanne Christie the youngest of the five girls, was awarded her cord and called upon Mrs. Peggy McConnel to speak.

Five girl guides presented girls with gifts and the guide leaders presented them with beautiful roses in little vases. Mrs. Della Gibbons was presented a gift for always donating her beautifully decorated cakes on special guide occasions.

Mrs. Fraser was presented a picture sketching of herself which Mr. Geoff Jones drew.

All of the ladies who had helped with the girls testing were thanked by the emcee, Heather Hood, who did a very good job.

The ceremony was closed with campfire and songs with a delicious lunch following.

The Gibbons Sunday School will be holding special Father's Day services on Sunday, June 19 at 10 in the Sunday School. Parents, relatives and friends are invited to attend the services with a picnic at Mrs. Della Gibbons to follow. This is non-denominational and everyone is invited to attend.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roc, Allen and Kay Roc and Joanne and Larry Roc who returned last Thursday from a three week holiday in England. It was reported everyone had a very good time visiting relatives and friends of the Roc's.

GUIDE REUNION

On Sunday, May 29, Gibbons Girl Guides held a 25th birthday reunion in the school gym. Originally it was to be held on the farm of Mrs. Della Gibbons, but due to the weather conditions, it was decided to use the school. Over 150 people turned out to see the present guide company do a series of games, campfire etc.

Also present was Mrs. Evelyn Fraser, who founded the first Gibbons Girl Guide Company in 1952. Mrs. Donna Williams presented Mrs. Fraser with a poem written by herself and dedicated to Mrs. Fraser, while Mrs. Della Gibbons donated a cake, in the shape of a book, with 25 years iced onto the cover. This was presented to Mrs. Fraser by Kim Mabbutt, one of the senior guides. A special 25 year crest was also given out to all the visitors. The Gibbons L.A. provided the lunch, which everyone enjoyed, and the Gibbons Guide Company would like to thank everybody who helped make their 25th birthday a success.

The Ladies Fastball Club have won three of their last four games scoring 19-15 against Lamont, 20-5 against Bon Accord and 30-1 against Oliver and losing 18-10 against Fort Saskatchewan ladies. The line up for the Agri Fair is 12 noon Bon Accord vs Round Hill and Fort Saskatchewan ladies vs Devon 2 p.m. Gibbons vs.

Fort Legion and Graham Realty vs Horse Hill. Semi finals will be at 4 p.m. Saturday and 12 noon Sunday. Finals at 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Gibbons Agri-Fair

is fun-packed event

By Karen Hogg

Agri Fair is here this weekend! Starting at 8:30 p.m. on Friday night is the beer fest which will be held in the Community Centre. Tickets are available from all Ag. Society members. Call Karen Hogg at 973-6924 if you would like tickets.

Saturday starts off with the pancake breakfast put on by the senior hockey club. This begins at 8:30 a.m. and there will be live entertainment on hand. The parade follows the breakfast. All entries will be meeting south of the new senior citizens home, and will come up 49 street, down main street to Railway Avenue, up 51 street past the arena to the school where the parade will disband. The Edmonton Strutters will be one of the bands in the parade!

From 2 to 7 p.m. will be beer gardens in the arena. The displays will be open all day Saturday and Sunday.

Log sawing, tug-of-wars, horse shoe tournaments and other skill testing events will be on all Saturday afternoon. A delicious barbecue will be there for you around supper time.

A talent show will be the Saturday evening with entertainment with a family disco to follow.

Sunday morning will be the car rally at 11 p.m. Sunday afternoon holds a treasure hunt for the kids and a large bonfire in the baseball diamond area for a picnic. Bring your supper and be on hand to cook your meal and be with friends.

Remember the baseball teams will be here for a two day tournament. There will be eight visiting teams which will all be camping overnight beside the arena. Sunday night is the bingo game at 8:30 p.m. in the arena. Every game is a different prize. This is going to be one big fun packed weekend. Be sure to attend and bring a friend!

Good farming is more than efficient production.

It's also effective business management.

That's where we can help.

Our staff of agrologists, specializing in farm management problems, can assist you in planning for profits in your farming business. It's more than just money management; it's an up-to-the-minute understanding and appreciation of agricultural technology and market fluctuations that helps us to help you. Talk over our agrologist assistance program with your local branch manager.

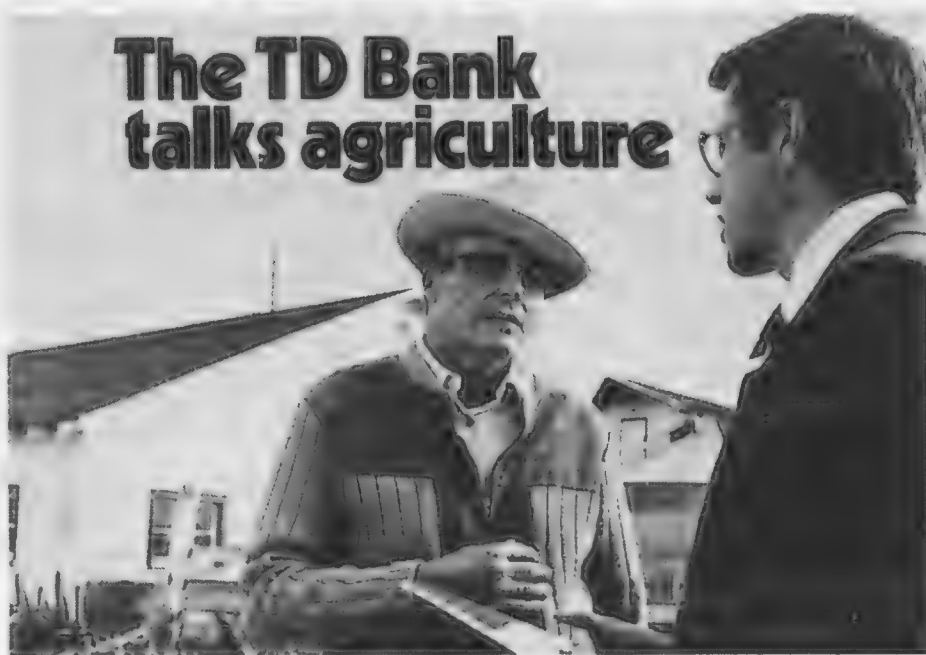

Agrologist services are a part of our TD Farm-Pac program that's specifically designed to cope with the particular problems of the agricultural industry.

GOAT SHOW SET FOR BON ACCORD

The official milk-out for the Goat Show will be held at 7 a.m. on Saturday, June 18 with classes being judged at 10 a.m. Along with the show a T-Ball tournament involving six teams will be staged. The concession will be open and anyone interested in setting up a Farmers' Market table should call Pat Reichle at 921-3535 soon as quite a lot of preparation is involved.

The Bon Accord 4H Beef Club will be holding a show on Monday, June 13 at 1 p.m. Admission is free and club members would appreciate a good turnout for the show.

At a ceremony held at Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Bon Accord, Mrs. Hilda Milligan was made a life member in the Anglican Church Women's Auxiliary. Presenting the life pin was Mrs. Jean Harmer. The pin itself has a long history, having been presented to Mrs. Edith Roberts many years ago, now in turn presented and pinned on by Miss Connie Roberts. Following the ceremony tea and cakes were served.

on June 19 with a service at 11 and picnic to follow. Members from the four parishes are expected to attend. Tea, coffee and kool-aid will be supplied.

The Bon Accord Wildcats will be playing at Legal on Tuesday, June 14 and will meet Westlock here on June 15. An audience is always appreciated.

ANNUAL INSPECTION AT ARENA

Golden Gems will meet on June 14 at 1:30. Weather permitting, the meeting will be held at the home of Hugh and Sadie Allen and will be a picnic-style affair with everyone being asked to bring something for lunch. Outdoor games have been planned for the afternoon and everyone is invited to attend. If you are not a member yet, you are hereby issued a special invitation to come along. The senior citizens recreation building is coming along splendidly and high hopes are held for a completed and well equipped building before winter sets in.

Want your picture taken? Ken McGregor will be on hand with his photographic equipment on June 18. A black and white 8 x 10 picture will only cost you $2 and reprints are available.

A reminder of the hard time costume dance which is being held on June 18 in the Cave. Tickets are $12 per couple with supper being served from 8-9 and dancing from 9-1. Music is by the Allegretts. Tickets are available from Pauline. The dance is being sponsored by the Ambulance Society, which also hopes to have the ambulance on display that day.

A sincere thank you is extended to the Red Barn Association and all those volunteers who made June 1 a most enjoyable night out for members of the Bon Accord senior set.

The Anglican Church picnic will be held at the Bon Accord Community Centre

Norman Wreggitt received his lieutenant's commission and C.O. Snip Loblick received his long service medal.

Civilian instructors were presented with framed certificates as expressions of thanks by the civilian committee. Const. Darryl Derouin, in the scarlet dress uniform of the RCMP added quite a splash of color to the proceedings. Cadets will reconvene on September 6.

Bon Accord Village Council News

1977 TAXES

Budget estimates were presented to council on May 24. Final approval of these estimates and the setting of the 1977 Mill Rates is expected at the regular meeting to be held June 7, 1977. If approval is given, tax notices will be sent out before the end of June.

WEED CONTROL

The Public Works staff have been attempting, over the past week, to further improve the appearance of the Village by spraying dandelions and mowing boulevards and parks. The efforts of residents who undertake to maintain boulevard property in front of their homes is greatly appreciated as it is virtually impossible for the public works staff to cover all public areas of the village in the time available.

DOMINION CENSUS

The FINAL population count for the village of Bon Accord according to the 1976 Census of Canada has recently been received and shows a figure of 882. The preliminary count showed 867.

VILLAGE CENSUS

Mrs. Janice MacDonald has been hired to carry out the village census during the latter part of June. Once again we will be asking for: total population, number of school children, number of pre-school children, number of senior citizens and number of commuters. Your co-operation when the census-taker calls would be appreciated.

Custs celebrate 40th anniversary

By Liz McLeod

On Saturday, April 16, members of the Jim and Erma Cust family, held a reunion for the couple's 40th wedding anniversary.

Jim and Erma, who live in rural Calahoo, were married on April 17, 1937. This gala event was held in the Riviere Qui Barre recreation centre with 80 guests present.

Richard Gadoury, oldest grandson, led the grace after which a delicious turkey supper was served by the community.

Seated at the head table were the bride and groom, and attendants, Mrs. Mary D'Hoedt, niece to the bride, and Mr. Ed Borle, brother of the bride.

Also seated at this table were Mrs. Louise Borle and Mr. Jack D'Hoedt along with all the family and youngest grandchild Wayne Cust, Gordon and Agnes's son.

The head table was attractively decorated with silver lettering "Happy Anniversary Jim and Erma," along with two candles and a two-tiered wedding cake, decorated by daughter Marguerite.

The grandchildren table was centered with a bouquet of flowers, made up by Mary D'Hoedt, as were all the corsages.

Ed Borle was their congenial master of ceremonies for the evening, and said a few words about this happy couple's younger days. Toasts were proposed by Arthur Cust, Roland Gadoury and Jack Johnson.

After this sumptuous meal Janet Muller and Lynn Morpew presented Jim and Erma with a gift from all the family and grandchildren.

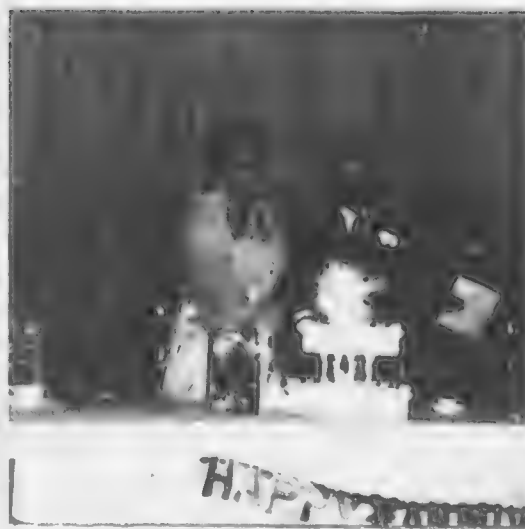

After the cutting of the cake, family pictures were taken, then a reception and dance was held for 150 relatives and friends. Music was ably provided by the Walter Boddez family.

During the evening, a bouquet of roses and a birthday cake were presented to the bride by three grandchildren, Tina Cust, Kim Johnson and Michelle Gadoury, on the occasion of her 65th birthday. Also celebrating an anniversary with Jim and Erma were Albert and Theresa Boisjoli, close friends.

At lunch time the bride and groom were asked to speak. They graciously thanked their children and grandchildren for this lovely evening and all who helped in anyway.

To further celebrate this happy occasion, Jim and Erma left on April 30 by chartered bus on tour to California, Disneyland and Mexico.

Pythian Sister News

Grand sessions held in Red Deer are now over. The sessions were held under the leadership of Verna Dreshen of Innisfail, Alberta with a good attendance from all provinces. All Temples responded by sending delegates but except Regina, Saskatchewan.

Attending from District 2 were Martha Bell, past grand chief; Gertrude Johnson, past grand secretary; Sharon Dunsworth, present grand secretary; Barbara Gibson, Pythian International chairman; Hazel McLean, past grand chief; Clara Williams, past grand trustee; Judy Christie, Dora Wilson, Grace L'Hirondelle, Doretha Roiston, and Jeannie Way.

Our new grand chef - Mae Elder resides in Brandon, Manitoba. She will be starting her official visits soon and her visit here in Gibbons will be on June 17. The Royal Temple of Edmonton will also be at Jubilee Temple that evening. They have closed their Temple for two months for summer holidays.

The month of June is Flag Month. The Royal Temple displayed their flag drill prepared for that occasion.

At grand sessions, a beautiful ceremony was held for those that had passed away during the past year, including Sister Helen Milligan of Gibbons who died March 21.

ROYAL TEMPLE 13 HOSTED DISTRICT "2" CONVENTION

This year Royal Temple of Edmonton hosted this years district convention at the 100F Hall June 1. Ena Brydon gave Jubilee Temples report for 1977 and Gertrude Johnson gave Royal Temples report. Martha Bell DDGC for 1977 chaired the meeting.

Edmonton members (opened) the convention in ritualistic order and introduced Mrs. Bell as our 1977 DDGC. She was then escorted to her official chair where she read her Commission as DDGC. And the convention then was in full swing. She then welcomed all Sisters present and wished us a harmonious and happy convention.

Question Box Committee, Charter and Dispensation committee were all present. The committees reports were read, absent members remembered, charity work reported and motions were made and passed. A beautiful flag drill was then displayed under the direction of Mrs. Jeannie Way.

The registration committee were Grace L'Hirondelle and Connie Roberts. After the convention was finished jubilee officers took their chairs and closed the meeting in ritualistic form, chaired by Maxine Gordon.

Half west beef for export

In 1976 about one-half the cattle slaughtered in Western Canada were surplus to local demand. Alberta slaughter was in excess of consumer demand by approximately 23,000 carcasses per week, while in B.C.

slaughter was well below local needs. In Eastern Canada estimated demand was far above local slaughter, particularly in Quebec, providing a major outlet for a sizeable proportion of the western kill.
